Construction driver strike in 6th week

The strike by construction truck drivers in a wide area of Illinois continues today, entering the sixth week. No meetings are scheduled for this week so far, but a spokesman for the Southern Illinois Builders' Association told the Press-Record today, "We are trying to set one up."

Although the contract dispute involved only Teamsters members, it is preventing nearly all work at building projects in all or part of 89 of the 102 Illinois counties. Only the Chicago area is unaffected.

Estimates are that $1 billion worth of highway, commercial, governmental, residential and industrial projects are being delayed during the summer's ideal construction weather. The strike began June 3. The last bargaining session was held in Springfield Wednesday between the Illinois Conference of Teamsters, composed of local 525 here and 12 other locals, and the SIBA, Central Illinois Builders Association and Associated General Contractors of Illinois.

The issues were described as near settlement last week but a proposed wage pact failed to gain acceptance from the management committee.

Halted work includes an $8 million classroom structure at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and $400 million in state highway improvements. Some Alton area work has resumed under a plan to pay whatever is eventually agreed to.

Contractors are said to have offered an average of 70 cents hourly in each year of a three-year proposal, while the chauffeurs are seeking $1 hourly for each year. Jurisdiction on operation of local flat-bed trailer trucks also is in dispute.

Water cost climbs 12%

Water rates throughout the Quad-City area will increase by 53 cents per month to the average residential user under a rate increase of 12.7 per cent granted to the East St. Louis and Interurban Water Co. by the Illinois Commerce Commission.

The increase is to become effective as soon as tariffs are filed with the ICC. No date has been announced, but officials predicted the increase would be effective Aug. 10 or before.

Both the Pontoon Beach and Mitchell public water companies obtain water from the Interurban firm. Those companies will determine how much of the increase will be passed on to customers.

In 1972, the company was granted a 13.7 per cent increase. The East St. Louis and Interurban Water Co. serves 64,000 customers, totaling about 300,000 persons.

Child beating

Donald L. Lyons, 41, of 2015 Washington Ave., was arrested on complaints issued by Madison County authorities after an incident in which Lyons allegedly beat his child, Lisa, 3.

According to sheriff's deputies, Lyons struck the child several times while Lyons and his family were attending a homecoming at Marine, Ill., Thursday night.

Deputies said a witness at one point restrained Lyons from striking the child further. When an officer arrived, Lyons was gone, officers said. The incident occurred at 10:30 p.m.

He was arrested at 12:35 a.m. Friday by Pontoon Beach police in the 4100 block of Kaseberg Lane and held for county authorities. Lyons was charged with aggravated battery and cruelty to a child and taken to the County Jail at Edwardsville.

Holiday fatality

Miss Lynda M. Atkinson, 19, a lifelong resident of the Quad-City area, was killed in a train-car collision at 8:35 p.m. Thursday as she was on her way to Wilson Park to view the July 4 fireworks display.

Miss Atkinson was alone when her car was struck by a westbound train on the Norfolk & Western railroad tracks at Lake Drive. She was pronounced dead at the scene by Deputy Coroner Edward Werner. She lived at 4420 Highway 162.

The engineer, William I. Curry of Charleston, Ill., told Madison County sheriff's deputies that he did not see the car.

The engine of the freight train struck the car on the Lake Drive crossing.

Miss Atkinson was thrown from the car a short distance from where the car was struck, and her body was found in a ditch partially filled with water. The auto was torn into two pieces by the impact and was dragged approximately 1,800 feet westward along the tracks before the train came to a stop. She was a lifelong resident of the Quad-City area.

Miss Atkinson attended Madison High School and was a member of the Methodist faith. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willis (Maxine) Walker, when she resided, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Towler of Cahokia.

Funeral services were held at

Veihl ends long service on GC housing board

Ernest E. Veihl Jr. last week was honored by the Granite City Housing Authority board upon completing 20 years of service as a housing commissioner.

Veihl, 3004 Yale Drive, chairman of the housing board for the past six years, has been replaced as a commissioner by Chris Von Nida, who was appointed by Mayor Paul Schuler.

New chairman of the housing board is Earl Thompson. Succeeding Thompson as vice chairman is Jack Pricker.

Other commissioners are Jerome Juda and Frank J. Fuesessery. David W. Morgan is executive director of the Granite City Housing Authority, which operates 651 apartments—451 at Kirkpatrick Homes and 200 units for the elderly at The Anchorage.

When elected as board chairman in 1968, Veihl succeeded Walter Pfaff, who had been the chairman for nine years. Commissioners serve five-year terms, and officers are chosen by the board annually.

Veihl was praised last week's GCHA meeting for his active role in planning expansion of facilities and services during the 1960s and 1970s.

Veihl was honored as "a distinguished Granite City citizen whose accomplishments in community betterment, Boy Scout and charitable endeavors have gained him widespread respect" at a festal dinner retirement dinner hosted by General Steel Industries in June 1967.

Veihl became assistant to the GCH vice-president-sales (international) in 1966.

He retired after 41 years with the Castings Division of GSI, formerly Commonwealth Steel Co.

More than 75 company executives and local civic leaders attended the retirement dinner party.

Man robbed and beaten

Glen Hunt, 175 Briarwood Lane, was robbed and beaten after he stopped his car to help a woman motorist on Route 203 near the south end of the McCambridge Avenue viaduct, he reported at 5 a.m. Sunday.

Hunt said he was driving north on Route 203 when a woman waved for him to stop. He halted and she said her auto would not start.

Hunt attempted to start the car and then opened the hood and looked inside the engine compartment to find a vacuum hose disconnected.

While he was attempting to repair the car, a man placed something against his head and said, "I want what you've got."

The robber then told Hunt to get into the back of his car. The man and woman joined Hunt in the auto and told him to

Two arrested in car theft

A 20-year-old man and a juvenile, 15, both from Pontoon Beach, were arrested last week and charged with theft by Granite City police.

Ernest Edwards, 20, of 244 Fontainebleau Drive, and the juvenile were booked on the charge in connection with the theft of an auto belonging to Mrs. Dawn Stallings, 2737 Washington Ave., which was reported stolen from the Highland Laundry, 2125 Amos Ave., at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Mrs. Stallings said she left the car engine running while picking up laundry in the building when she saw the two youths jump into the car and speed away. The auto was recovered by police at Primrose and Amos avenues.

Free boating safety course

Last year, boating accidents accounted for 1,500 deaths and extensive property damage. The statistics indicate a need for boat operators to better prepare themselves by taking a boating safety course, the U.S. Coast Guard Reserve noted today in announcing a free 90-minute beginner boating safety course at the St. Louis County Library.

The library is located at 1640 S. Lindbergh, St. Louis. There are two programs scheduled—the first July 9 and the other July 24, both beginning at 8 p.m.

"Take this opportunity to learn how you can avoid the unnecessary mistakes others have made," a spokesman urged. "For further information, contact the Coast Guard Reserve Office: phone (314) 622-4221."

Civic organizations, company safety officers and educational groups desiring presentation of the course to their group may write to: BOSDET Officer in Charge (P), ORTUPS (92-8216), 135 W. McCrory, Lambert Field, St. Louis, Mo. 63145.

LOOT TRACTOR-TRAILER

A $175 citizens' band radio was stolen from the tractor-trailer of Jimmy Kimer, Pevely, Mo., parked at 15th Street and Grand Avenue, it was reported at 10:40 a.m. Sunday. A side window was pried open to gain entry to the truck cab.

Woods trial to begin

Trial of John Allen Woods, 23, of St. Ann, Mo., on a murder charge, began today in the Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville.

Woods is accused of fatally stabbing Mrs. Sadie Elizabeth McGee, owner of the Why Not Tavern and Cafe, 2000 Hildebrand Ave., Cloverleaf Addition, March 20. He was arrested two days later by Madison County sheriff's deputies.

A coroner's jury ruled the death homicide.

Signals, truck route, access road discussed

The Highway, Traffic and Transportation Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, chaired by Richard Kerch, noted at a regular meeting last week that bids are being opened for lighting on the new road and traffic signals at East 23rd St. and Nameeki Road and at Fehling Nameeki Johnson Road.

A signal light is being proposed at Nameeki Road and Manley Avenue and at Lindell Blvd. and Nameeki, the committee members pointed out.

A proposed marked truck route through Granite City is in process, and the proposal should be ready for submission to the City Traffic Committee within the next two weeks, the discussion brought out.

The committee will arrange a meeting with the six aldermen involved in an effort to reverse the traffic flow through Granite City on State and Benton Streets, as originally recommended by the "Topics" federal traffic survey.

A plan to work out tourist signs for the Tri-City Regional Park District to indicate site locations is being considered. As soon as this study is completed, authorities will contact Springfield officials in an effort to get the signs installed, it was related.

Steele opposes big legislator pay hike

"Legislative pay hikes in the amount of $5,000 which have been passed by the Illinois House, and are now before the Illinois Senate, should be rejected," Everett G. Steele, a state representative nominee, said today at a gathering of supporters.

"At a time when the average family must tighten their belts to keep household budgets in line," Steele said, "it is improper for legislative leaders to be considering pay raises which would make the Illinois legislature the most costly in the nation."

"Economy in government must be practiced, not promised," Steele said. "State officials must put the interests of the people before themselves. I oppose this pay hike, and urge the Illinois Senate to reject this entirely and unreasonable legislator pay proposal," Steele concluded. The local realtor resides in Glen Carbon.

Police captain captures 4 youths

Four Granite City youths were apprehended at 12:05 a.m. Friday by Police Captain Everett C. Kelly as the officer was summoned home by a family member when an automatic garage door was opened by a device operated from a passing vehicle.

Kelly said the electronic opening device had been taken earlier from his auto. The officer said he returned home after the telephone call and parked the squad car in the garage, and five minutes later the automatic garage door was opened.

A vehicle described by neighbors was stopped by police at St. Clair and National avenues; the occupants were placed in custody and the opening device was recovered. Authorities today were unable to verify whether charges will be pursued or dropped.

Government integrity is vital—Cong. Price

In a Fourth of July message, Cong. Melvin Price commented on the nation's approaching 200th anniversary of independence.

"In 1774, the First Continental Congress was formed to lay the foundation of liberty for our country," the local congressman said. "Exactly 200 years later, another Congress has deliberated on a question which concerns the most important virtue of any government—its integrity as the standardbearer for its citizens."

"I have no doubt that our nation and its leaders will prove worthy of those men who envisioned this land nearly 200 years ago."

New store opens today

The new Berger X-L Hardware Store opened business at 1918 Delmar Ave. today, returning to downtown Granite City shoppers a full line of hardware and household items.

The store is owned and operated by Ted Berger, former manager of Schermer Ace Hardware stores here, and is located in the same building as the downtown Schermer Ace Hardware store.

Berger said the new retail store carries complete lines of hardware, plumbing and electrical supplies, housewares and paint, as well as automotive oils, additives, tires and other items for the motorist.

Interior of the store has been remodeled and redecorated. Hardware, housewares and the paint department are located on the main floor and a special "Bargain Basement" arrangement is stocked with automotive items and close-out and discounted merchandise.

After leaving here in 1969, Berger became a hardware buyer for a chain of discount stores for four years and then opened the Lazy Larry Bargain Barn at Pacific, Mo., which he operated until returning here to open the new store.

of General Steel Industries, presented Veihl with an inscribed silver bowl and spoke briefly.

He noted that the retiree had joined the estimating section of Commonwealth Steel's engineering department in 1926, following graduation from the University of Illinois School of Engineering.

In 1930, shortly after Commonwealth was acquired by General Steel Casting Corp., Veihl was transferred to the Edgemoor, Pa. plant, where he became assistant engineer and in 1942 entered the sales department as chief estimator.

While living in Pennsylvania, he served eight years on the community district school board, including the post of board president.

Veihl returned to Granite City in 1948 when the corporation's general offices were transferred here.

In 1950, he was appointed office manager-sales, and two years later was promoted to manager-foreign sales, a position he held until his elevation to assistant to the vice-president of sales in 1966.

Reviewing the guest of honor's extensive community service activities, C. E. Townsend, retired Press-Record publisher, described Veihl's civic achievements as "distinguished and worthy of emulation by others."

He pointed out the amount of time and effort given by the retiree without financial reward, often at personal expense.

Active with the Tri-Cities Chapter of Commerce since 1954, Veihl served as Chamber president for two consecutive terms in 1956-1958.

During his tenure as president, he encouraged formation of the Port District study committee that ultimately resulted in establishment of the Tri-City Regional Port District.

While serving as C. of C. president, Veihl instituted as his slogan the quotation—"I believe that a man should be proud of the city in which he lives, and he should so live that the town is proud of his living in it."

He later served on the Tri-Cities Chamber's Advisory and Congressional Action committees.

In previous years, he held chairmanships of the New Post Office, Granite City All-American City Award, Progress Unlimited (the Chamber's program for revitalization) and Program committees.

He served as a commissioner of the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America; member, since 1950, and past president of the Granite City Country Club; and a member and past director of the Sunset Hills Country Club.

Veihl served on the St. Elizabeth Hospital Lay Advisory Board from February 1952 until December 1961.

drive on McCambridge to a dead-end, the victim related. At the end of the road, Hunt was ordered from the car and another man approached and ripped off Hunt's clothing and watch. The man then struck Hunt twice on his head with a pistol and told him to run, saying he was going to kill Hunt.

Hunt said he ran and heard two gunshots. He fell and struck his head on a railroad track. He looked back and noticed that the three robbers and his car was gone.

He went to several homes and knocked on the doors for assistance before one resident admitted him. He then called the Madison County sheriff's department and related the details of the robbery.

He said that among the things taken were his wallet, containing $12, and his watch.

He described the woman as having an Afro hair style and wearing a red outfit. The men were about 25 to 28 years of age, one being about five feet, 10 inches tall and weighing 170 pounds and the other about one inch taller and weighing 175.

Hunt's car was found at 4:05 a.m. Sunday by Madison police in the 1900 block of Fifth Street in Madison.

BURGLAR ON IOWA
Items worth $845 were stolen from the home of Ed Boone, 2881 Iowa St., it was reported at 7:50 p.m. Sunday. Entry was gained by breaking a basement door window and reaching through to a key, he said. Taken were $200 in coins, five silver dollars, a $5 bill, two brass lamps, an antique centerpiece, two rings, a gold wedding ring and band, $150 in savings bonds and a tape player and two speakers.

In the mid-1960s, improvement and expansion fund-raising campaign conducted by the local hospital, Veihl continued to work as a member of the Advance Gifts Division. In recent years, he has served in campaign finance positions at the hospital.

He was a member of the Community Chest board of directors, before formation of the United Fund, on which he also served as a director.

Howard Parks, a General Steel Industries vice-president, served as master of ceremonies at the 1967 program, which featured a surprise "This Is Your Life" presentation.

A series of slides recorded incidents in Veihl's life from infancy in the arms of his mother, through his high school years at Granite City, where he was graduated in three years as class valedictorian, to current sequences with his family.

Veihl and his wife, the former Muriel Burr of Chapman, are the parents of one daughter, Mrs. Robert Smith, wife of an Air Force colonel.

Rehabilitation stressed at third annual dinner of Society for Crippled Children

The third annual meeting of the Granite City Society for Crippled Children, held at Charlie's Restaurant, featured a program theme of "Hurrah for Kids."

President Louis Pashoff welcomed the group and the Rev. Dr. Paul Surbey, pastor of St. John's United Church of Christ, gave the invocation.

Distinguished service awards for outstanding service of crippled children were presented to Harry Cook, student council advisor at Granite City High School North, for his service as walkathon chairman for the March of Dimes for 1973-74, and to North and South High Schools for sponsoring the walkathons in 1973 and 1974.

Brent Weiss, student council president of North, and Kenne Kibort, South High president, accepted the awards for their schools.

Pres. Pashoff presented checks to Mrs. Norman Kinder Jr., president of the Granite City Auxiliary of the Easter Seal Society, for $251 for meals for children from this area who attend the day camp and the camp for crippled children at Little Grassy.

A bond for $750 was accepted by Bob Cook for the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children and a check for $350 to be used for transportation funds for the Shriners' Burns Institute.

Vice-President William Kinder introduced the speaker for the event, Miss Carol Murphy, chief physical therapist at Cardinal Glennon Hospital, who spoke on "Rehabilitation of Crippled Children."

Entertainment for the evening was provided by the "Moore Children" who participate in the Suzuki program at SIUE. Richard, Troy, Peter and Angela were accompanied by Miss Donna Cockrell in their violin selections.

Pashoff introduced the Rev. Carl Eschenbrenner, associate pastor of St. John's United Church of Christ, who gave the benediction.

Re-elected as officers for 1974-75 were: Louis Pashoff, president; William Kinder, vice president; Barbara Watz, secretary; and Ralph Astorian, treasurer.

Directors are A. E. "Tony" Michel, Arshag Astorian, Roger Bowler, Mrs. Juliann Burns, Mrs. Lily Chaboude, Walter Chris Hansen, Mrs. Fanny Epstein, Earl Fronabarger, Margie Greenwald, Mrs. Bogni Lazenby, Leo Lipe, Roy M. Lynn, Junior Matthe, Mrs. Catherine Michel, Edwin F. Reiske, Avery Schermer, Mary Paul Schuler, Reyth Stallings, Robert Stevens, Dr. Paul Surbey and Mildred Talley.

The committee for the annual meeting consisted of Pashoff, Kinder, Ralph Astorian, Barbara Watz, Lily Chaboude, Bonnie Lazenby, Reyth Stallings, Mildred Talley, Fanny Epstein, Glen Chaboude and A. E. Michel.

CHARGE MOTORCYCLIST

Norman Gitcho, 21, of 2811 Palmer Ave., was issued eight traffic citations after police allegedly chased his motorcycle from 29th and Iowa streets to Wilson and Buxton avenues last week. He was charged with speeding, attempting to elude police and violations at six stop signs.

Time for webworm moths

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
Webworm moths are buff-colored moths which fly up when you mow the grass or brush against the shrubbery. So webworm larva is a chewing pest which lives in the dry clippings and feeds on blades of grass. When the worms aren't too thick and the grass is growing, this pest does not create noticeable injury.

Webworm moths in your lawn in June are the start of the first generation in late June and early July. This early summer generation seldom creates noticeable damage because rains and fertilizer keep the grass growing. The population of worms in June is only a fraction of the late summer generation which appears in August.

If you are suspicious of brown areas in your turf look for clipped-off plants. Webworms cut off the grass shoots one-half inch above the soil. When lots of grass in brown areas are clipped off you know webworm is serious while lots of dead clumps but no chewing indicates a serious disease.

Early season treatment for webworm is a waste of money unless you can find extensive chewing of entire clumps. If control is necessary in August use carbaryl or diazinon as a spray or granules. If you plan to spray use two to three gallons of spray per 1000 square foot or water the lawn just before you spray. Granules do not need to be watered.

Occasional pruning will prolong blooming of several annuals and improve the appearance of others. Removing old flowers is very productive for good reblooming of several annuals. Let growing marigolds, snapdragons, pansies, zinnias and cosmos will gradually stop blooming when pruning is neglected. Steady reblooming is your reward when you prune off older (ripe) flowers.

In other cases removing old flower stems is an endless and unnecessary job because satisfactory flowering will continue anyway. Pruning old flowers seems a waste of energy on petunias, annual phlox, verbena, mass rose and dianthus.

Long vines on some annuals can be pruned back to develop a compact plant. Petunias that become sprawling and stinky can be cut back gradually, a few stems every few days to new growth at the base of the clumps.

New shoots will develop a vigorous compact plant. Some gardeners cut back their petunias all at once — just before going on vacation, for example. Luxuriant new growth will occur within a few weeks and lush flowering follows. Other annuals that respond to the "prune-back" theory include verbena, coleus, pansy, bells of Ireland, alyssum and ageratum.

Busy week for River Fest concert series

The first full week of the 1974 Mississippi River Festival summer concert series at the SIUE campus is about to begin. A concert by Doc Severinsen and the New Generation Brass with Today's Children inaugurated the MRF schedule last night, and the films "Woodstock" and "Journey Through the Past" are scheduled for 8:30 tonight.

Plans call for films on Mondays, folk-pop-rock events Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 8:30 and the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra on weekends—Saturdays at 8:30 and Sundays at 7:30.

On Tuesday, July 9, at 8:30 p.m. Leo Kottke, with Steve Goodman and Megan McDonough, will perform at the festival.

A rarity among performers in the pop-rock scene, Kottke provides audiences with all types of music, including classical selections.

He appeared at the MRF last season with Harry Chapin.

Megan McDonough is a singer, writer and guitarist whose songs include "Keep in Touch," "Pocketful" and "Song Without a Story."

Steve Goodman is competent in singing, writing and playing an instrument; his album, "Somebody Else's Troubles," captures his talents as a guitarist.

His composition, "City of New Orleans," was sent to the top of the charts by Arlo Guthrie.

The J. Geils Band makes its first appearance at the MRF on Wednesday evening, July 10, at 8:30.

Begun in Boston, the group is composed of J. Geils, guitarist; Peter Wolf, lead singer; Magic Dick, harp; Seth Justman, piano and organ; Stephen Blade, drums; and Danny Klein, bass.

Their style is blues and rock and roll.

Friday night's family concert on July 12 features Rick Nelson and the Stone Canyon Band.

Nelson's newest album, "Windfall," contains country, rock and ballads with a jazz influence.

Each member of the Stone Canyon Band contributes something unique to the album—Tom Brumley, J. DeWitt White, Dennis Larden and Ty Grimes.

On Saturday evening, July 13, at 8:30, the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra will make its first appearance at this season's Mississippi River Festival, with an all-French program and a special Bastille Day party to which all concertgoers are automatically invited.

Duo pianists, Gold and Fildale, will be featured soloists in Poulenc's Concerto for Two Pianos.

Leonard Slatkin will also conduct the orchestra in La Marseillaise, Schmitt's La Tragedie de Salome and Saint-Saens' Symphony No. 3, "Organ," featuring Ronald Aratt, organist.

The all-French concert will be preceded by an opening night Bastille Day party which begins at 5:30 p.m. Saturday. From the welcoming French gardeners at the gate to the fireworks following the concert, it will be an evening of enjoyment for the

J. GEILS BAND which will make its first appearance at the Mississippi River Festival at SIUE at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The 1974 River Festival season began last night and STEVE GOODMAN, A singer, musician, guitarist and songwriter, he will participate in tomorrow's River Festival concert.

MEGAN McDONOUGH, one of tomorrow's River Festival entertainers. She is a songwriter, vocalist and guitarist. The MRF is presented on the SIUE campus.

entire family, MRF officials say.

Balloon ascensions by St. Louis balloonist Nikki Caplan and 1973 National Champion Tom Gabel will take place at 5:45.

At 6:30, sky divers Chris Cuquet, Tom Perry and Mark Runge will perform, and other special attractions will be the Belleville Black Knights Drum and Bugle Corps, the Gerri Stretz dancers in "Can-Can," H. R. Puf N'Stuff and characters from Six Flags, animators from the St. Louis Zoo, Magician Harold Russell, Ollie Hildebrand, "Sad Sack Ollie Clown" and the Moadak Temple Shrine clown unit.

Sculptures by Chuck Shewry will adorn the grounds and a band will play at the entrance.

In addition, special French picnic baskets will be available from the SIUE food service, containing assorted cheeses, French bread, fruit and a bottle of non-alcoholic Catawba wine.

The concert ticket provides admission to the party. Tickets are available at all bi-state area box offices. For further information, the public may contact the SIUE box office 692-2320 or Powell Symphony Hall (314) 533-2590.

Emur Deodato, award winning arranger of the theme from Stanley Kubrick's "2001," will be guest soloist with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra at the River Festival Sunday evening, July 14, at 7:30.

Slatkin will conduct the orchestra in Dukas' Panfare to "La Peri," his own arrangement of Albinoni's Adagio, and his own composition, Extensions I.

Deodato compositions to be performed are Mississippi-2001, Whirlwind, Farewell Tour, Friend, St. Louis Blue Rag, Jiving, Superstrut, Pavane for a Dead Princess, and 2001.

Deodato was born in Rio de Janeiro, began his musical career at age 14 and came to New York while in his twenties at the height of the bossa nova explosion.

He worked with Astrud Gilberto and has written for Roberta Flack, Antonio Carlos Jobim and Frank Sinatra.

His first album, Prelude-Deodato, for CTI Records, includes his famous interpretation of "2001."

will continue almost nightly until concluding in late August. Innovations this year include free parking on all SIUE lots.

LEO KOTTKE, pop-rock vocal and musical artist who will be featured at the Mississippi River Festival at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Patriotic theme at Music Under Stars

The second "Music Under the Stars" concert will take place at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Wilson Park rink pavilion. Admission is free.

The program will have a patriotic theme and will include many familiar numbers, according to the director, Mrs. Mary Ann Bright.

Choruses will sing such selections as: "The Star Spangled Banner"; "America"; "Born Free"; "Pledge of Allegiance"; "Save the Country"; "No Man is an Island"; "This Is My Country"; "Which Way, America"; "Patriot Hymn"; "America, Our Heritage"; "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor"; "There Are Many Flags in Many Lands"; "Let There Be Peace on Earth"; "God Bless America"; "When Johnny Comes Marching Home"; "Where Have All the Flowers Gone"; "Battle Hymn of the Republic"; "Blown in the Wind"; "Abraham, Martin and John"; and "This Land Is Your Land."

The "Music Under the Stars" summer concert series is sponsored by the Granite City Park District. All ages are eligible to sing in the choruses, with no auditions required, Mrs. Bright said.

Persons interested in joining the program are invited to contact the Wilson Park office, at 877-3059, for information and rehearsal schedules, the director advised.

Tips for vacation mailing

Tips to help vacationers enjoy trouble-free mailing of letters and post cards while on their holidays were offered today by the postmasters of the Quad-Cities.

"Mail as early as possible in the day, preferably in the morning. Avoid mailing on weekends when many post offices are closed. And try to deposit cards in mailboxes that indicate an early pickup," the postmasters suggested.

Buy enough stamps before leaving home to prevent running out far away from the nearest post office. Keep in mind that stamps are more expensive when purchased from commercial vending machines, they added.

Other tips are:

Always use sufficient postage. For first-class cards, use an 8-cent stamp if the post card is not larger than the standard 4 1/2 x 6 1/2 inches in size. For "jumbo" cards 10-cent stamps are required. For airmail, use an 11-cent stamp on standard post cards and 13 cents for "jumbo" cards. As a general rule, use airmail stamps only when the mailing distance is 600 miles or more.

Remember to use ZIP codes. Many times cards are addressed hurriedly while riding in cars, trains or planes. Legible ZIP codes will help speed mail to its proper destination.

Keep this trick in mind: Type the addresses of friends and relatives on self-addressed labels before you leave home. It is surprising how much time this saves on the road and how much neater those cards will look.

Another note: Don't forget your personal mail back home.

Remember to ask a friend or neighbor to empty your mailbox daily and to hold the mail until you return. An overstuffed box in your absence is an open invitation for thieves to enter your temporarily unoccupied home.

However, if you prefer, you can fill out a form available from the post office and request that your mail be held for any period up to 30 days. If you choose this method, be sure to specify when you want your mailman to resume home delivery.

"The best way to insure a relaxed vacation comes from taking the necessary steps to make certain that everything—including the mail—is in good order back home," the officials concluded.

Levee audit commends revisions

An annual audit of the 1973 fiscal year operations of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District in which district trustees were commended for improvements made in operational procedures during the year was submitted to the board in its regular meeting Wednesday.

Prepared by Bert H. Allison & Co. of East St. Louis, the audit said there "were several areas of improvement in the administration of the district" during the 1973 year, but listed areas in which the audit said improvements still could be made.

Last year the audit report criticized the district's financial operations, citing problems with fund transfers, purchasing, bill paying and payroll procedures. The audit at that time said the district was violating the "basic principles of proper administration" and called for complete reorganization.

"Naturally, not all the improvements of the district which have accumulated over a number of years, could be made in one year," the audit report said in recommending 11 more improvements which it said should be made.

These included not allowing persons who receive expense accounts to receive free gasoline or supplies at the district garage; elimination of a blanket expense allowance in favor of vouchers for actual expenses; and prohibiting personal use of district property, such as automobiles.

The report also recommended better maintenance of district property, updating equipment inventory; revision of purchase order procedures and re-establish the "clearing account" for recording all district receipts.

The board did not act on the audit report during the meeting pending clarification of several points. Jack Scoville, board president, said he disagreed with the recommendation concerning the use of district cars. He said he believed employees should use their district cars at all times, to maintain radio contact in the event of an emergency.

The trustees said they will review the report and then take action on those recommendations which they believe necessary.

Mrs. McKinley dies suddenly

Mrs. Pearl M. (Cravens) McKinley, 57, of 28 1/2 Kaseberg Park, was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 1:55 p.m. Friday. She became ill at home and was taken to the hospital by ambulance.

A native of Tolot, Ark., Mrs. McKinley resided in Bunker Hill prior to moving to this area. She was a member of the First Assembly of God Church, Bunker Hill.

Survivors include two sons, Don Byrd of Bunker Hill and John Byrd of Collinsville; three daughters, Mrs. Bud (Faye) Strong, Beaver, Okla.; Miss Janice, wife of G. R. McKinley, and Miss Patricia Rice of San Francisco, Calif.; two brothers, Harold Cravens of Grafton and Rusty Cravens of Detroit, Mich.; two sisters, Mrs. Benny Byrd of Belleville and Mrs. Kathryn Dozer of Gary, Ind., and 12 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

Girl on bike hurt by auto

Natalie King, 16, of St. Louis, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital 9:15 p.m. Thursday, suffering bruises to the head, back, left leg, left hand and forearm.

Melvin Lawrence, Brooklyn, the driver of the auto that allegedly struck the girl at 4th and Granville streets, was charged with driving while intoxicated and released on $100 cash bond.

Police said the windshield and rearview mirror were broken on the right side of Lawrence's car.

TAKE YARD FURNITURE

A redwood picnic table and bench, valued at $50 were stolen from the home of Gilbert Stegemeier, 4101 Old Alton Road, he reported Thursday. Imprints of truck tires near a fenced rear yard indicated the thieves may have lifted the items over the fence, the owner said.

GRANITE CITY LICENSE PLATE WINNER. Awards were presented to 42 regional winners in the 1976 Bicentennial license plate contest conducted by Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state, at a special awards program in Springfield. Talking with Secretary Howlett at the presentation is Edwared Belling (left), 17, Granite City High School North. Edward is the Region 12, Blue Division (grades 9-12) winner. More than 400,000 school students throughout Illinois joined in the "spirit of '76" by submitting their designs for the 1976 license plate. "The enthusiasm shown by grade and high school students in contributing their share to the celebration of our nation's 200th anniversary in 1976 is commendable," Howlett said. "Authorities say it is the first time in history that any state involved the public in the selection of color or design of its license plate." The winning design chosen for the plate was submitted by Kelley Jordan, 10, Oakdale Elementary School, Normal.

Mercer edges out Troy 6-5 in 11th

The Mercer nine squeaked past the Illinois Inter-City Baseball League division leader Thursday, July 4, at Wilson Park, scoring two runs in the 11th inning for a 6-5 win over Troy.

Mercer totaled 13 hits and four errors, while Troy garnered 12 hits and made two errors. It was tied 4-4 at end of nine innings.

In the top of the 11th, Troy scored a run for a 5-4 lead. David Huddleston, lead off man in the bottom of the 11th inning for Mercer, walked. Jack Scarborough got on base on an error, and both moved up a base on a wild pitch.

Bob Scott then walked to lead the bases for Mercer.

Steve Schardan hit an infield single, scoring Huddleston with the tying tally.

Rich Schardan next singled, scoring Ed Schmidt, who had been sent in to run for Scarborough, for the winning run. Mercer is now 6-4 and Troy has an 8-2 record.

Mercer took the lead early in the game, scoring three runs in the first inning and one in the third. Troy scored two runs in the fourth and tied it with two in the eighth.

The first inning saw Hank Scott single for Mercer. Huddleston also singled and they advanced on a wild pitch. Larry Corey walked to fill the bases and Bob Scott hit into a fielder's choice, sending brother Hank home.

Steve Schardan walked, leading the bases again, and his brother Rich tagged a single, scoring Corey and Huddleston.

Larry Corey led off the third inning for Mercer with a triple and Bob Scott drove him in with a single.

Mercer hurler Mark Boone got credit for the win although he only pitched the 11th inning. Bruce Thompson pitched the first eight innings and earned praise from Manager Wendell Corey. Vic Reznack pitched the ninth and tenth innings for Mercer.

Mercer will travel to play at Livingston beginning at 2 p.m. next Sunday.

GENERAL GRANT title winner for 1974 Tim Chance, of St. Louis, will compete in the 12th Annual Kiwanis Regatta on Horseshoe Lake Sunday, July 14. The first of 22 heats begins at 1 p.m., with 50 of the top hydroplane pilots registered.

Gen. Grant-Gen. Lee competition at '74 GC Kiwanis hydroplane races Sunday

"General Grant and 'General Lee' will meet head-on at the 12th annual Granite City Kiwanis regatta Sunday, July 14, at Horseshoe Lake. Earlier this summer at North vs. South championship hydroplane races in Gadsden, Ala., Tim Chance of St. Louis won the title of "General Grant" by scoring the greatest number of points for the northern team.

His counterpart from below the Mason-Dixon line was Jimmy Adherholdt from Jacksonville, Ala.

The two race drivers are among 50 of the nation's top hydroplane pilots who are registered for the local event. The first of 22 heats will begin at 1 p.m. Sunday, with a new three-lap sprint race every 10 or 15 minutes.

Speeds in the larger classes will exceed 100 miles per hour as the highly-tuned alcohol-burning outfalls race around a one-mile closed course on the lake area.

Food and refreshments will be available at lakeside. Proceeds from the Kiwanis-sponsored event will go for charitable purposes.

Livingston next for Mercer team

The Inter-City Baseball League's Mercer nine will travel to Livingston for a 2 p.m. contest Sunday after drawing a bye in yesterday's competition.

Mercer's is 6-4 in league standings. Livingston is fresh from a 10-7 victory over Panamint yesterday.

In another league game yesterday, Troy downed Highland 9-3. East Alton and Piasa were to have played but decided to enter a holiday tournament instead.

Motor Press membership

Granite City Press-Record sports writer Ken Thompson has been presented with an associate membership in the International Motor Press Association (IMPA) of New Jersey by the organization's president, Joseph Oldham.

Thompson, host of an auto racing radio program on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, where he majored in radio broadcasting, joined the Press-Record in August 1973.

The IMPA membership roster includes such persons as Chris Economaki, editor of National Speed Sport News; Richard Petty, top NASCAR race driver; Andy Granatelli of the STP Corp.; Peter Regna, president of Aeroc Industries; Bill Hartford of Popular Mechanics magazine; Jim Stickleford of Chrysler Corp.; and

Post 113 ball team finds you win some and then lose some O'Fallon, after losing nine games in a row, made Granite City Post 113 its third consecutive victim in American Legion Baseball League competition at Wilson Park yesterday by downing the Granite City squad 5-1.

Post 113 had entered the contest with O'Fallon after winning 3-1 here over Alton Friday and then losing 14-5 at Belleville Saturday.

"We struck out the first four O'Fallon batters," commented Coach Conrad Champion, "and then they got four runs in the second inning before we even knew what had happened."

O'Fallon added another run in the third before Post 113 scored in the fourth inning.

Dave Dombek singled, Bill Carr walked and both runners then advanced on a wild pitch. Mike Stanton's groundout scored Dombek.

Hurrier John Scott was charged with loss after being relieved in the sixth by Greg Terrell.

Granite City Pitcher Kirk Champion struck out 10 Alton batters in going the distance on the mound Friday.

Champion allowed one enemy run in the opening inning but his teammates posted two runs in the second and added another in the fourth.

Paul Mushill singled and went to second on a fielder's choice before scoring on a hit by Brett Champion to start the second inning. Kirk Champion then doubled to drive in his brother.

Granite City's run in the third came on a hit by Kirk Champion, who stole second and third, later scoring on a hit by Mike Martinez.

On Saturday at Belleville, Post 113 stranded 13 batters in the losing effort while the host team capitalized on errors for six runs in the third.

Belleville held a 5-4 lead going into the third inning. It added two in the fifth and one in the sixth.

Post 113's first inning run was on a double by Martinez, a bunt single by Dombek and another double by Brett Champion.

A lone second inning score resulted when Greg Linhart walked and Jim Kafka and Martinez singled.

Granite City trailed by one after posting two runs in the third. Bill Carr walked, Stanton got a hit, Linhart walked, and Brett Champion singled to center to score two runners.

A fourth inning effort by Granite City produced only one run. Martinez singled, Dombek walked, and Stanton singled.

Ray Smith will start for the 6-8 league record Granite City squad at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Edwardsville.

Kirk Champion will take the mound at 6 p.m. Wednesday against the league leading Highland squad at Wilson Park.

On Friday, Post 113 will travel to Alton for a 6 p.m. contest, and will be hosted at 1 p.m. Saturday by New Baden for a doubleheader.

On Sunday, Post 113 returns to Wilson Park for a 1 p.m. inning contest with Danville.

Scherer captures stock car feature

It was silver dollar night Friday at Tri-City Speedway and late model stock car driver Bill Scherer of St. Louis took home the silver, outdueling Pontoon Beach's Wb Spaulding for the checkered flag in the feature race of the evening.

Silver dollars were given as change to the fans.

Scherer earned his way into the main event by taking fourth place in the third heat race in a borrowed race car. His regular car was wrecked the week before at a race in Missouri.

The former two-time Belle Clair Speedway sportsman class champion captured his second feature race of the season with Friday's feat here after just turning to late model competition this season.

Spaulding captured the handicap event and Gene Melloway and Jim Lamelino were heat race victors.

In the sportsman class the same evening, Bill Broz posted his second consecutive main event win of the season by crossing the finish line first ahead of Granite City's Rod Bailey and Gary Barker.

Defending sportsman champion Pat Walsh of St. Louis captured the first heat race and Gary Wallace the second heat event.

Late model and sportsman class stock car racing will resume this Friday with time trials at 7:30 p.m. and racing at 8:30 p.m.

Promoter Ed Bloom announced that as an added attraction officials of the Gateway Auto Racing Association will compete in an officials' race on the quarter-mile dirt oval.

3 games for Post 307 after league shutout

Venice-Madison Post 307 faces a three-game schedule this week in 22nd District American Legion Baseball League competition, after dropping a 7-0 decision on the road yesterday to league-leading Highland.

Winning pitcher John Friedrich allowed only five hits and blasted a homer to help boost Highland's record to 11-2. Venice-Madison is now 2-11.

Post 307's hits came off the bats of Ken Crawford, Cedrick Wilson, Frank Stroehmer and Carl Turner.

Venice-Madison will play host at 6 p.m. Wednesday to Edwardsville at Venice's Lee Park and will travel to East St. Louis for a 6 p.m. contest Thursday. On Sunday, Post 307 will be at Cahokia for an 8 p.m. game.

MR. AND MRS. GARY ROBINSON, whose wedding took place at Temple Baptist Church, 714 McCambridge Ave., Madison. The bride is the former Miss Roberta Sue Hall, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hall, 1919 Rhodes St.

Temple Baptist scene of Robinson-Hall nuptials

Temple Baptist Church, 714 McCambridge Ave., Madison, was the scene of the wedding on June 28 of Miss Roberta Sue Hall, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hall, 1919 Rhodes St., and Gary Lee Robinson, son of Mrs. Joanne Robinson, 2024 Thirtieth St., and the late Marvin Robinson.

The Rev. Vernon Covington performed the double ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m.

A white wrought iron garden arch holding arrangements of all-white gladioli, pom poms and greenery was centered between standing candelabra affixed with burning tapers.

Nuptial selections were furnished by Thomas Chamberlain and Alicia Hendrickson. For her wedding, the bride wore an Empire style gown of ivory peau de soie and sata peau. Vertical rows of dainty Venice lace in a daisy design accented the bodice and were repeated at the high neckline, sleeve caplets and cuffs.

A gathered lace, edged with Venice lace, encircled the semi-straight skirt and lace bordered the chapel train.

She wore a Juliet headpiece to hold in place a cathedral length veil and she held a Bible topped with a white orchid, lily of the valley, baby breath and trailing streamers. Gowns fashioned with white lace Empire style bodices and full length skirts of pink chiffon over taffeta were worn by the attendants. Each carried two long stem roses festooned with satin ribbons.

Serving as maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Roanm Hall. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Crystal Hall, a sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Patty Youngquist, the groom's cousin.

Robert Robinson, the groom's brother, was the ringbearer and escorted the flower girl, Karen Winchester. She was dressed in a frock similar in style to the adult attendants' dresses and she carried a colonial bouquet of summer flowers.

The groom chose his brother, David Robinson, as best man. Charles Hall Jr., a brother of the bride, Ernest Winchester, and Ronny and Larry Robinson, also brothers of the groom, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception held in the church parlor, immediately following the service.

The former Miss Hall is a graduate of Madison High School, where she was a member of the National Honor Society and school band.

The couple will reside in Norfolk, Va., where the groom is stationed with the U.S. Navy aboard the USS John F. Kennedy.

MRS. HAROLD GROGAN, the former Miss Starlet Sue Shannon, who was married at the First United Methodist Church in Collinsville. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Shannon, 128 Appletree Lane, Edwardsville.

Grogan-Shannon nuptials at Collinsville church

The Dr. Donald L. Lowe performed a double ring ceremony June 22 at the First United Methodist Church in Collinsville, uniting in marriage Miss Starlet Sue Shannon and Harold Patrick Grogan.

Preceding the arrival of the wedding party, Miss Mary Kay Laisko sang, "There's Love," "Sunrise, Sunset," "Because," and "We've Only Just Begun," accompanied at the organ by David Peterson.

Burning tapers in aisle standards, festooned with greenery, illuminated the white carpeted aisle. The sanctuary was decorated with arrangements of miniature mums, white daisies, baby breath and snapdragons for the 6 o'clock evening service.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. William R. Shannon, 128 Appletree Lane, Edwardsville. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Ruemmler, 102 Appletree Lane, formerly of Granite City.

A Chantilly lace bridal gown complemented with a mantilla veil edged in matching scalloped lace, were worn by the former Miss Shannon.

Bishop sleeves were set into the molded bodice, designed with a sabbina neckline, and an organza bow defined the natural waist.

The slightly gathered skirt was encircled with scallops at the hemline. She carried a bouquet of miniature white mums, yellow roses, baby breath.

Miss Vicki Matzko, honor attendant, and Mrs. James Fogle, a cousin of the bride, Mrs. Jack Bench, Miss Robin Renee Shannon, the bride's sister, and bridesmaids, were gown in dotted swiss frocks in yellow, mint green, blue and pink.

Their gowns were designed with sleeveless Empire-bodices, featuring scoop necklines, and A-line skirts. Long sleeve bolero jackets were accented with a gathered ruffle at the neckline and formed the cuffs of the tapered sleeves.

Each girl wore a spun straw picture hat in a shade to match her gown and carried a bouquet of daisies and baby breath centered in a garland of lace, edged with satin ribbons.

Susan Renee Hilton, the flower girl, was dressed in a long nylon over taffeta frock made with a white satin bodice and short, lace-trimmed sleeves. She held a basket of red and yellow rose petals.

MR. AND MRS. NARMEL C. MILLS JR. They were married in the United Cumberland Presbyterian Church at Norris City, Ill. The bride is the former Barbara Jean Griffith, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. Griffith of Indianapolis, Ind., formerly of Granite City.

Mills-Griffith nuptials

Miss Barbara Jean Griffith and Narmel C. Mills Jr., were married June 8 in the United Cumberland Presbyterian Church at Norris City, Ill.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. Griffith of Indianapolis, Ind., formerly of Granite City. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Narmel C. Mills Sr., of Euleas, Tex.

Honor attendants were Miss Nancy Kay Short of Norris City, a cousin of the bride, and Walter H. Mills of Euleas, the groom's brother.

Brad Griffith, a brother of the bride who has since returned to his home in India, and Alan Hunt of Norris City, the bride's cousin, seated the guests. The former Miss Griffith, a 1965 graduate of Granite City High School, currently is employed with the Federal Bureau of Investigation at Washington, D.C.

The couple will reside in Washington, where the bridegroom is stationed with the U.S. Navy.

Attending the wedding from Granite City were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sharp and daughter, Renee, Mrs. Flora Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Williams and son, Ricky, Mr. and Mrs. George Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Buchanan and family and Mrs. Rena James and children.

Trio Unit hears food care topic

A major lesson, entitled "Prevention of Food Borne Illness," was presented by Mrs. Ivan Graklanoff and Mrs. Florence Rapp at a meeting of the Trio Unit, Madison County Homemakers Extension Association, held at Hope Lutheran Church last week.

The newly elected chairman, Mr. Ellen Ozanich, presided at the business session and presented Mrs. Bea Rittenhouse with a gift in appreciation of her service as unit chairman the past two years.

Mrs. Rittenhouse gave the health lesson—"Police Can Strike Again."

Mrs. Mahel Gertsch, 4-H chairman, reported the annual achievement unit program will be held for 58ers 4-H Club members on Wednesday at St. John United Church of Christ.

Members were reminded of the National Homemakers meeting set Aug. 4 to Aug. 9 in Urbana, Ill.

Mrs. Ruth Brave informed the group that a beginners' sewing class for unit members only will begin July 17 and continue at 9:30 a.m. each Wednesday for six weeks at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ.

A Homemakers creative art camp is planned Aug. 2 in Jacksonville, Ill., it was announced.

Trio unit members will not meet in August, but resume programs Sept. 3 at Hope Lutheran Church, Mrs. Ozanich said.

Mrs. Sara Huber and Mrs. Margaret Prehn, hostesses, served a luncheon to 23 members and seven guests.

These winning prizes during the social hour, were Mrs. Vivian Forstee and Mrs. Clara Schilling.

Miss Victoria Jones and Robert A. Prill are wed

Miss Victoria Lynn Jones, a daughter of Mrs. Sharon Cottrell, Galesburg, and Robert Allen Prill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Laverne L. Prill, Rural Route One, Granite City, were united in marriage on May 23 at Sacred Heart of Jesus Polish National Catholic Church in Madison.

The Rev. Edwin Phillips officiated at the 5 p.m. ceremony. Angelina Maclos presided at the organ for Sophia Krinski, soloist, who sang several selections.

For her wedding, the bride chose an organza gown featuring a Chantilly lace fitted bodice with long tapered sleeves and a high neckline.

The long, full skirt extended into a chapel train, edged in matching lace, and she wore a mantilla veil and carried a bouquet of white carnations and baby breath.

Matron of honor Mrs. Lavern Taylor, a sister of the groom, and the bridesmaids, Miss Deborah Nolan, Miss Vickie Stuart and Miss Vickie Boyer, were dressed alike in floral gowns.

The floral voile bodices were created with high necklines and long, full sleeves with fitted cuffs.

The formal length skirts were fashioned in pink with ruffled flounces.

Cludy Singer, the flower girl, was dressed in a floral patterned frock over white, full length. She carried a basket of flower petals.

Richard Fedorchak was the ringbearer.

Attending the groom as best man was his cousin, Don Broadway. Groomsmen included Larry Broadway, another cousin, Eddie Jones, the bride's brother, and Les Chandler.

Seating the guests were Gary Taylor, the groom's brother-in-law, and William Fedorchak, a cousin of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Taylor entertained guests at a rehearsal dinner, in their home on Rural Route One.

A reception was held at the Polish Hall in Madison.

The newly married couple is residing in Granite City following a wedding trip to Florida.

Both young people attended Granite City High School. The groom is employed at Prill's Garage in Granite City.

Cavins' host class meeting

Mr. and Mrs. John Cavins, 2401 Bryan Ave., were hosts to the Fidelis Class of Second Baptist Church last week at their home.

The meeting opened with hymn singing and prayers were offered by Mrs. Dolores Ayers and Mrs. Naomi Rongey.

Mrs. Ruby Clausen gave the devotion.

Members answered roll call with scripture verses and made plans to send a sunshine box to a member who is ill.

Refreshments were served to those named and to Ruth Hassler, Minnie Cavins, Kay Pierson, Ruby Mayberry, Wilma Gillman, Alice Hoffman, Louise Hoffman, Louise Mitchell, Mina Duggins, Myra Grote, Cora Miller and her granddaughter, Lisa Herlein.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Florence Paul.

Granite Chapter 650 hosts official visit

Granite Chapter 650, Order of the Eastern Star, hosted an official visit for grand officers of Illinois last week, preceded by a dinner served at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church to 71 members and guests.

The tables were decorated in a strawberry theme. In keeping with the appointments, strawberry needlepoint pin cushions were given to the visiting officers as gifts. Individual favors were potted strawberry plants.

Mrs. Betty McClintock, worthy matron, and Harry McClintock, worthy patron, conducted the business meeting at the Masonic Temple following the dinner.

Guest of honor Mrs. Eleanor E. Tomlin, worthy grand matron of Illinois, was escorted to the altar and introduced.

Mrs. Cora Hettich registered the guests.

Guests in the East were associate grand conductress, Mrs. Jane Hagman, and grand sentinel, Marie Tomlin.

Other state officers escorted and introduced were Pauline Sleeth, chaplain; Lela M. Witt, marshal; Susanne Glaser, organist; Isabella Kipke, Adah; Edith Cheney, Esther; Della Anderson, Martha; and Gaherine Johns, Electra.

Also recognized during the meeting were Mrs. Bess Henley, grand matron of 1942; four grand representatives; seven grand lecturers; one past grand officer; 25 grand chapter committee members and 16 worthy matrons and worthy patrons.

Granite 650 "sweethearts" for the year, Mrs. Mary Ellyn Lewis and Lloyd Lewis, were welcomed.

Mrs. McClintock said local officers will fill the stations at the Collinsville chapter meeting today.

A reception was held in the Temple dining room which was decorated with a trelis of red and pink roses and a large silver crown.

Punch and cake were served from a buffet table covered with blue netting and red roses and entered with an arrangement of containing the five colors of Eastern Star.

Serving as hostesses were Mrs. Rachel Larsen, junior past matron; Mrs. Donna Kagy, the present Electra, both of Granite chapter; and Mrs. Louise Meador, past matron of the host chapter.

AMVETS INSTALL FLAGS, HOLD FAMILY BARBECUE: Eight volunteers from Amvets Post 51 installed flags along Madison Avenue early Thursday morning as part of the community's Fourth of July observance.

A breakfast was served by auxiliary members to the work detail at the Amvets clubhouse, 5100 Lakeview Drive.

Later in the day, Amvets members and their families enjoyed a barbecue on the post grounds.

MR. AND MRS. DANNY MILLSAP, who were united in marriage in the Terrace Room of Central Christian Church. She is the former Mrs. Cynthia Jo Mitchell, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lasiter, 117 Lennox Ave., Mitchell.

Cynthia Mitchell wed at Central Christian

The wedding of Mrs. Cynthia Jo Mitchell and Danny Charles Millsap took place on June 29 in the presence of a small group of friends and relatives in the Terrace Room of Central Christian Church.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was Dr. L. Jim Anthis. Wedding music was furnished by Mrs. Judy Owens.

Attending the couple were Mrs. Michael Lasiter, the bride's sister-in-law, and Richard Millsap, a brother of the groom.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lasiter, 117 Lennox Ave., Mitchell. The groom is a son of Mrs. Sadie Millsap, 914 Grand Ave., Madison, and the late John Millsap.

For her wedding, the bride chose a floor length gown designed with a full skirt of yellow nylon dotted Swiss over satin.

The Empire waistline was defined with a band of matching yellow satin and the bodice of white embroidered eyelet batiste was styled with a high neckline and long sleeves. On her hair she wore a short white veil sprinkled with small yellow daisies and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and red roses.

Mrs. Lasiter, the honor attendant, chose a long gown of pale pink nylon tulle over deep pink satin, made with long sleeves and a high neckline.

Tiny pink and green rosebuds enhanced the high rise waist and she wore a small chapel headpiece of pink satin trimmed with rosebuds. She held an arrangement of pink roses and white carnations.

Ed Gloziks return home from Europe

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Glozik, 3709 Fair Oaks Drive, have returned from an 18-day tour of Europe during which they visited eight countries.

The couple traveled by plane to Zurich, Switzerland, journeyed by motorcoach through Italy, Austria, Belgium, Germany and France and crossed the English Channel by ship to Britain.

In London the Gloziks observed repairs being made to the House of Parliament, which recently was damaged by a terrorist bomb.

Other than in Italy, where several women tourists lost purses to thieves, Mr. Glozik said the trip was a most enjoyable experience. "But, we are glad to be back," she added.

Eta Chapter plans projects

During a business meeting of Eta Chapter of Phi Tau Omega Sorority last week at the Granite City Elks Club, plans were discussed to participate in the annual Charity Days, set for Sept. 19-21, at Namecki Village Shopping Center.

Mrs. Georgianna Van Buskirk, president, presided at the session and reported the

Attends Alpha Phi convention

Miss Phyllis Barnes returned last week from the 50th biennial convention of Alpha Phi International Fraternity held at the Arlington Hotel, Hot Springs, Ark.

Miss Barnes was selected by Epsilon Xi Chapter to represent the group. She has been a member since 1972 and has been active in campus programs.

She has served as Alpha Phi Fraternity-Sorority conference representative, song leader, third vice-president in charge of scholarship, rush chairman and presently is chapter president.

Miss Barnes, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Barnes, 3029 Dale Ave., resides in Edwardsville. She is a student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, where she is majoring in speech pathology and audiology.

Historical museum friends to meet

Miss Dorothy Colonius of Alton will speak on "Clothes and Furnishings of the Past" at the regular meeting of the Friends of the Madison County Historical Museum at 10 a.m. Thursday at the Museum in Edwardsville.

Mrs. David Stroup of Edwardsville will display a collection of Indian jewelry. A business meeting and a "bring-your-own" luncheon will follow the program.

MR. AND MRS. IGNATIUS SHAMBRO. They were united in marriage in an evening ceremony at St. Teresa Catholic Church, Belleville. The bride is the former Miss Anna Marie O'Connell, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. O'Connell Sr., 9143 Lynwood Lane, Fairview Heights.

Anna O'Connell becomes Mrs. Ignatius Shambro

Miss Anna Marie O'Connell became the bride of Ignatius James Shambro in an evening ceremony on June 21 at St. Teresa Catholic Church, Belleville, performed by Monsignor Lawrence J. O'Connell.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. O'Connell Sr., 9143 Lynwood Lane, Fairview Heights. The groom is the son of Mrs. Velma Shambro, 725 Brown St., Venice, and the late Clifford Shambro.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a full length gown designed with a sheer yoke accented with a delicate lace trim. Lace also formed the collar and was applied on the full sleeves.

Matron of honor was a sister of the bride, Mrs. Terry McCart, and the best man was John Shambro, the groom's brother.

Other members of the wedding party were Eileen and Ellen O'Connell, Eileen Walsh and Mary Mathis, bridesmaids. Groomsmen included Robert Shambro, Mike Dixon, Ed Berringer and Steve Kafka.

MARRIED. Navy Fireman and Mrs. Steve Jansen, who were married in an early afternoon ceremony at St. Dominic Church in Breese, Ill. She is the former Miss Connie Benhoff, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Benhoff of Breese.

Central Baptist to start school

Leavenworth Christian Academy is the name chosen for a new school beginning this fall at Central Baptist Church, 3910 Highway 111.

Rollettes mark birthdays of 2

Mrs. Carol Smith and Mrs. Jeanette Wilson were honored on their birthdays with gifts from secret pals at last week's meeting of the Rollettes Club. Members met at the home of Mrs. Helen Warfield in St. Jacob, Ill., for the semi-monthly gathering.

Those winning prizes were Mrs. Betty Brooks, Mrs. Joyce Waller and Mrs. Smith. A buffet dinner was served by the hostesses to those named and to Mesdames Reate Radelek, Edith Wofford, Diane Wilson, Sharon Jackson, Connie Tinsley and a guest, Cheryl Briggs. The next party will be with Mrs. Waller, 2653 Rhodes St.

Couple exchanges vows at St. Dominic Church

Bouquets of red and white carnations adorned the altar and sanctuary of St. Dominic Church in Breese, Ill., for the wedding on June 28 of Miss Connie Benhoff and Navy Fireman Steve Jansen.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony at 4 o'clock in the afternoon were the Rev. John Fellner of Breese and the Rev. Robert Becker, former pastor of St. Margaret Mary Church in Granite City.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Benhoff, 938 N. 6th St., Breese. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Jansen, 2436 Terminal Ave.

Special selections played during the ceremony included "The Wedding Song," "Sunrise, Sunset" and "We've Only Just Begun."

The bridal couple was escorted to the altar by their parents.

For her wedding, the former Miss Benhoff wore a deacon organza gown created with a bodice of re-embroidered Venice lace. The square neckline was defined with a band of scalloped lace and lace formed the cuffs of the sheer bishop sleeves.

Her controlled bouffant skirt had a soft fullness at the sides and back and was marked with a bow at the center back. She wore a mantilla style veil of imported silk illusion, bordered with matching lace, and she carried an arm bouquet of red roses.

The attendants, Miss Cindy Beckmann, maid of honor, and Miss Helen Knezevich, bridesmaid, sisters of the groom, and Miss Donna Goewert, the bride's cousin, bridesmaids, were dressed in white.

Their full-length dresses were fashioned in an Empire style, with long pink skirts encircled with deep ruffled flounces. White eyelet bodices, enhanced with tiny pink flowers, featured high necklines and long puff sleeves.

Each girl wore a white picture hat and held two red roses. Attending the groom as best man was Brian Wilson, Greg Stiver, Dave Rofingmeier and Tom Benhoff, a brother of the groom.

Shower honors Miss St. Ivany

Miss Darla Christine St. Ivany, an August bride-elect, was complimented at a bridal shower given last week at Shaw Park, Clayton, Mo., by Mrs. Margaret Bogosian and Mrs. Sonya Ohsanian.

White wedding bells trimmed in pink and white gingham and arrangements of pink and white daisies decorated the tables for a picnic luncheon, served by the hostesses.

Those winning prizes at games were Mesdames Jan St. Ivany, Bonnie Stranghoener, Zavart Mgrdichian, Virginia Stranghoener and Misses Laura Ohsanian, Sue Schoener and Denise and Linda St. Ivany.

Other guests included Mary St. Ivany, Martha St. Ivany, Kimberly St. Ivany, Gala Hampton, Zabel Astorian, Janice St. Ivany, Lisa Stranghoener, Julie Coffeen, Chris Koppner, Mary Baker, Karen Precht, Narcisse Bogosian and Mrs. Naz St. Ivany, mother of the bride-to-be.

GC Terminal wins awards

The Granite City Terminal of the Steel Transport Division of Yellow Freight Systems won a company Division Two safety contest. The local terminal completed 1973 without an accident.

A dinner honoring the drivers was held at Charlie's Restaurant.

Drivers receiving safety awards were Leo Schubert, Dale Veach, Donald Boswell, Oliver Scholten, James Gann and James Green.

Douglas Nils, district sales manager, spoke to the group on "Safety Makes Cents."

Guests included James Ward safety supervisor, Dearborn, Mich.; Dale Stultz safety supervisor, Indianapolis, Ind., and Ken Thompson manager of safety, Shawnee Mission, Kan.

Railroads named in court suits

Jennings Simpson has filed suit in Madison County Circuit Court against the Terminal Railroad Association and the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Co.

He alleges that on June 22, 1974, while he was employed by the Terminal Railroad, a moving train in which he was an engineer and a Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad train collided head-on near St. Louis, causing him to be injured.

He seeks $50,000 from the Terminal Railroad and $50,000 from the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad.

Asks damages for injuries

Chris Douglass has filed suit in Madison County Circuit Court against Illinois Power Co. and Sergeant & Lundy, a partnership.

The suit alleges that on Dec. 11, 1972, while Douglass was an ironworker during construction of an addition to the Illinois Power Co. Baldwin plant, he slipped on an icy walkway and was injured. He seeks $25,000 in each of two counts.

Hill alleges he jumped on the moving car and attempted to stop it with a handbrake. While he was on the car, the engine attempted to couple again with the car and again the coupling device failed.

The impact of the engine striking the car knocked Hill onto the ground, injuring him, the suit alleges.

Suit filed in accident case

Harlin Bone, 18, of 53 Cambridge Court, has filed suit in Madison County Circuit Court against Kenneth Kessler, 20, of 522 Maryville Road, resulting from an auto accident Feb. 9, 1974.

Bone alleges he was a passenger in Kessler's auto which went out of control on the Route 111 exit ramp from Interstate 270 and overturned, causing him to be injured.

The suit seeks $100,000 in each of two counts.

Seek more, better child care centers

By JOAN MURARO
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

The State Department of Children and Family Services is moving ahead, spokesmen say, in a program to increase badly needed licensed child care facilities while upgrading controls so that they are safer for the youngsters who must use them.

Tom Villager, administrator for the Office of Child Development in the department, said that six additional employees have been hired in the Chicago office which licenses day care homes. This brings to 12 the total licensing employees there.

One more was added in the day care center licensing office, bringing the total of such personnel there to 14.

The department goal is to have each license representative handling no more than 100 cases, Villager said.

The state requires appropriate licenses both for persons operating child care centers and for persons caring for children other than their own families, in their homes.

The department inspects each facility before a license is issued, Villager said, and thereafter conducts inspections at least once a year, but preferably each six months.

A considerable backlog of applications had built up in Cook County, which as of last November had 781 facilities with a capacity of 2,665.

Villager said part of the delay had been the result of an agreement with a Chicago building code task force, under which the department delayed licensing until the task force approved the building as a whole.

The task force fell behind, he said, and the department now issues licenses after its own inspection, with the stipulation that the license will be cancelled if the city building department finds code violations when its inspection is made.

The city building code inspectors check the entire premises, Villager said, while department inspection is largely limited to the actual areas which will be used in the care of the children.

In another phase of the upgrading, a court order has been obtained permanently prohibiting owners of one facility from again taking in children.

The operators had violated department regulations by taking more than the permitted number of youngsters for their day care home, he said. One of the youngsters was killed, apparently by another youngster in the home, in an accident.

Regulations restrict the number of children in a day care home to eight children under 18 years, including those of the owner's family.

Day care centers have maximum population determined by size, space, staff and other requirements.

In the last phase of the operation, home operators have received additional information on child abuse requirements and protection guarantees, since these operators, coming in touch with children regularly, are in a good position to notice signs of abuse, Villager said.

GOP Women plan future events

The Granite City Republican Women's Club began planning to participate in "Charity Days" at Nameoki Village Shopping Center, scheduled Sept. 19 to Sept. 21, at a meeting last week in the home of Mrs. Vernice Wortman, 2460 Washington Ave.

Mrs. Jane Reese, club president, named Mrs. Judy Nemeth and Mrs. Gladys Neuman as project co-chairmen and asked them to prepare items for sale in the charity booth.

"American Heritage" is the title of a book to be presented to the Granite City Public Library on behalf of the women's club, Mrs. Lillie Ann Finner and Mrs. Elma Hoover announced.

A family potluck picnic was set for 6:30 p.m. July 23 at Shelter 5 in Wilson Park. Mrs. Nemeth is serving as picnic chairman.

Mrs. Reese reported the Madison County Federation of Republican Women's Clubs will sponsor a buffet dinner dance on Sept. 8 at the Edwardsville American Legion Hall, with proceeds going to GOP candidates for election purposes.

Mrs. Mary Nemeth, Mrs. Ruth Lucas and Mrs. Reese announced they are compiling a booklet of registered Republican voters for presentation to precinct committeemen and party candidates.

MRS. SMITHSON HOSTS JULY 12 Mrs. Kathryn Smithson, 2592 E. 27th St., served a noon luncheon to members of the July 12 Club last week, preceding an afternoon of cards.

Those excelling in the games and winning prizes were Mrs. Pauline Stephens, Mrs. Jean Barnes, Mrs. Mabel Lehn and the hostess.

Others attending were Mrs. Emma Steinberg, Mrs. Verna Michel and two guests, Mrs. Viola Edwards and Mrs. Mildred Gray.

Mrs. Stephens invited the members to meet in her home, 2539 Edwards St., in July.

G. JACK KULENKAMP

Kulenlamp heads underwriters unit

G. Jack Kulenkamp, CLU, has been installed as president of the Peoria Life Underwriters Association for 1974-75, and as host for the 1975 state convention.

The former Granite Cityman, who now resides in Peoria, Ill. with his wife, Kitty, daughter, Linda and son, Ron, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kulenkamp Sr., 2215 Delmar Blvd., and the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Kleinschmidt, 2251a Edison Ave.

Prior to moving from here, Kulenkamp was active and held offices in the East Side Life Underwriters Association.

Social Security contacts extended

William E. Kerr, district manager of the East St. Louis Social Security Office, has announced an extended schedule for the Social Security representative will visit The Anchorage recreation hall, 2809 Edwards St., on July 9 and July 23. In August and September, he will continue to visit the station on the second and fourth Tuesday of the month.

Residents of the area were encouraged by Kerr to avail themselves of the additional service to take care of their social security business. Kerr stated that should the added visits be productive, the schedule would be continued. The phone number of the East St. Louis office is 274-2200.

Three hurt in auto accident

Three persons were injured and treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital as the result of an auto accident last week. Ira Holder, 39, Troy, suffered an injured left shoulder and spine. He was transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis. His wife, Mrs. Jacqueline Holder, 37, was treated for pains to the neck and spine, was X-rayed and released. Robert Holder, 8 months, was examined and released.

Passenger hurt

Mrs. Helen Burke, 20, St. Louis, was treated for bruises to the forehead at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 7:40 p.m. Saturday and transferred to City Hospital in St. Louis for observation.

Mrs. Burke was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Edward T. Burke, that collided at 16th Street and Madison Avenue with an auto driven by Christ W. Paschoff, 1230 Madison Ave., Madison.

BRIDE-ELECT. Miss Katherine L. Hendrix, whose engagement to Marine Corporal Robert L. Knezevich is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie D. Hendrix, Rural Route Two, Granite City. A September wedding is planned.

Katherine Hendrix to marry

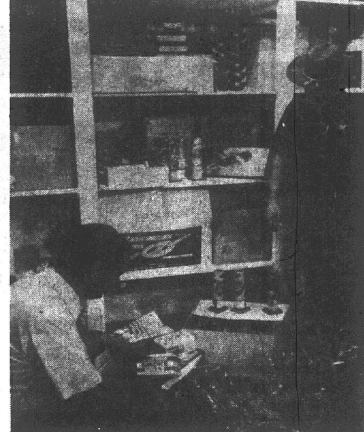

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie D. Hendrix of Rural Route Two, are announcing the engagement to Marine Corporal Robert L. Knezevich, 2344 State Street. He also graduated from Granite City High School and currently is serving with the U. S. Marine Corps military police in Miramar, Calif.

Plans are being completed by the betrothed couple for a wedding on Sept. 7 at Suburban Baptist Church.

Mrs. Thelma Black, president, opened the meeting with prayer and presided at a short business session.

Refreshments were served to Emma Graves, Zetta Moll, Grace Johnson, Juanita Lorn, Amanda Hill, Dorothy Lornberger, Estella McBryan and the Rev. Mike Smith.

FIREWORKS CONFISCATED Wednesday by the Madison County Sheriff's department from the W. & W. Confectionery, 4601 Maryville Road, are estimated to have a wholesale value of over $2,000. Sheriff John Maeras, left, examines the items. Deputy Dan Schmidt, who made the arrest, is at right. Shelves are stacked with the contraband.

Fireworks arrest

Anthony H. Cline, 32, manager of the W. & W. Confectionery, 4601 Maryville Road, was charged with the unlawful sale of fireworks Wednesday afternoon by Madison County Sheriff's Deputy Dan Schmidt.

Cline was released on $1,000 bond pending a court appearance.

According to Sheriff's authorities they acted on complaints that the confectionary was selling fireworks to small children.

Over $2,000 worth of fireworks were confiscated by deputies.

Deputy Schmidt said he was outside the confectionary and observed a young boy buying fireworks, then went into the store and arrested Cline.

According to Sheriff John Maeras it is unlawful to sell, offer for sale, or explode fireworks of any kind in the state of Illinois; except by special permits for major displays.

Maeras commented, "It would be far better if you could arrest the persons who manufacture fireworks than a store owner, but the law in Illinois forbids the sale and we have no choice but to enforce the laws."

MOTORCYCLE MISHAP
William Chandler, 20, of Rural Route One, Box 350, Granite City, was treated and released from St. Elizabeth Hospital after his motorcycle and an auto driven by Phillip Natta, East St. Louis, collided at 12th Street and Madison Avenue, at 3:15 a.m. Friday.

Oliver's Passbook Primer

P is for passbook

The simplest kind of savings account. It's called 'passbook' because that's what you get. A pocket-sized book that holds a complete record of your deposits, withdrawals and balance—as simple as the record you keep in your checkbook.

A is for anytime

You can deposit anytime, withdraw anytime. Other savings plans require you to wait a certain period or until a certain date before withdrawing. But, with a passbook, your money's yours whenever you need it.

S is for safe

Completely safe. At Illini Federal, your account is insured up to $20,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, a governmental agency.

S is for sun

Every time it goes up and comes down your savings increase. Because Illini compounds your interest daily. That means higher annual earnings. And, if you withdraw before the end of a quarter, you still earn interest for every single day the money was on deposit.

B is for best rates anywhere

We pay the highest interest allowed by law on passbook accounts. The current rate is 5 1/4% annually. If it changes, you'll automatically start earning the new rate.

O is for only

It only takes a few minutes to open a passbook account. Do it now. Then add to it little by little or lot by lot.

O is for offices

Illini has four. You can transact your business at any one of them, regardless of where you opened your account. Or save by mail with our 'trip-saver' envelopes—the postage is paid both ways.

K is for keep saving

You'll be surprised how fast your savings grow into beautiful things, even if you start with peanuts.

City defers action on traffic light proposal

An agreement under which the developers of the new Schuck's store on Namoki Road would pay half the cost of installing traffic signals to facilitate traffic flow to and from its shopping area was presented to the Granite City Council last week, but action on the proposal was deferred after several aldermen said they wanted more details.

The proposal was submitted by City Engineer Monroe Brewer who said a plan worked out by the council's traffic committee, headed by Alderman Everett Morlen, called for installation of traffic signals on Manly Avenue at an estimated cost of $16,000, half of which would be borne by the G. & F. Investment Co.

An agreement signed by Donald Golden, president of Golden & Co., developers of the Schuck's store and shopping area, in behalf of G. & F. Investment Co., which handled financing of the development, provided that the company would deposit $8,000 with the city to meet its share of the installation costs.

Brewer told the aldermen that cost of the signal system is low because light standards and the signal units removed in replacement of traffic signal systems at four Madison Avenue intersections can be used.

Alderman Walter Nonn protested that the Golden firm should pay all of the cost because its an improvement for his shopping center." Alderman Steve Basarich said that "we're going to end up with about five traffic signals between Pontoon Road and Madison Avenue."

Brewer said it will be possible to synchronize all traffic lights when installation work is completed and the traffic signal system at Fehling-Johnson and Namoki roads is completed.

The Fehling-Namoki roads project is to include left turn signals.

On a motion by Alderman R. E. Robertson, further discussion and action on the proposal was deferred until a future meeting.

SAILING INSTRUCTION. canoeing, rowing, swimming, lifesaving, and water rescue are taught in the aquatic program at Camp Sunnen near Potosi, Mo. Sunnen is used the year around for weekend camping, training courses and Order of the Arrow Conclaves. Over 1,200 area Scouts will spend a week at Sunnen during the summer camping season. From left, Brad Cowan, assistant aquatic instructor and president of Explorer Post 6 of Granite City, Eric Thornburg and Eric Painter, both members of Troop 35 sponsored by the International Order of Odd Fellows.

MARKSMANSHIP AND GUN SAFETY are taught at Camp Sunnen, summer camp of the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America. Members of Troop 35, sponsored by the Nameeki Methodist Men's club, from left, are Phil Ramey, Duane Novaro, range instructor, Jim Moske, Stephen Maxon, Bryant Snee, assistant range instructor, and Ted Webb. Camping and cooking skills, ecology and conservation on natural resources are a few of the skills taught to Scouts while at Sunnen. J. Richard Hooks of Venice, is the camp director and Reginald Mennerick of Granite City is the council camping chairman.

Omit ties, State Chamber suggests

Did the energy crunch get it in the neck this week? The Illinois State Chamber of Commerce thinks so, having announced support for energy chief John C. Sawhill's suggestion that businesses join government in dressing cool by shedding neckties and jackets this summer.

Lester W. Brann Jr., president of the 19,000-member statewide business organization, said the State Chamber will tie-in with Gerald M. Marks, director of the Chicago Regional Office, U.S. Department of Commerce, in asking business firms to consider "optional, voluntary guidelines" for dress codes within their operations.

Sawhill has asked all federal employees to "stay loose" this summer, on the theory that if they are more comfortable, they'll be inclined to cut energy-consuming air conditioning several degrees.

The Illinois State Chamber, which has been encouraging and coordinating energy conservation programs among companies for the past year, recommended that executives and employees alike consider dressing for the higher temperatures.

"For men, possibly abandoning a tie for an open collar may make it seem several degrees cooler," Brann said. He acknowledged that established tradition, protocol and style may deter some businesses from permitting men to dress casually on hot days, and that some restaurants which have required ties may not relax their rule.

"However, there are many situations where personnel spend their workday not having to meet the public or make official appearances," Brann said. "These might be ideal situations to consider the option of unbuttoning."

Hearing on school goals

What is good or bad about education in Illinois? What goals should the state's educational system be working to achieve?

Interested persons will have a chance to be heard on these or any other topics relating to education in the state at a public hearing to be held Wednesday, July 10, in Springfield by State School Supt. Michael J. Bakalis.

The meeting is to be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the auditorium of the Illinois State Museum in Springfield. It is one in a series of public discussions scheduled by the state education office on educational goals and priorities in the state, especially the goals spelled out in the publication "Action Goals for the Seventies: An Agenda for Illinois Education."

Anyone wishing to testify is to notify the Community Relations Section of the Office of Public Instruction in Springfield at (217) 782-3646.

"Action Goals," now in second edition, is the product of public hearings on educational priorities which began during Bakalis' first year in office in 1971. The document contains goals established by the general public and professional educators at the initial hearings, and outlines steps to achieve them.

Hearings on the goals are held on continuing basis by the state education office in order to keep the "blueprint for change" current with lay and professional thought on key areas of education improvement.

Wheat yields are lower

By DAVE FISCHER
U. of L. Extension Advisor

Excellent weather last week allowed farmers to move ahead on their harvesting and cropping programs.

Wheat yields are varying from field to field. Early wheat harvested is showing wheat yields reduced 10 to 20 bushels per acre as compared to last year.

If double-cropping soybeans in wheat stubble is part of the cropping program this year, necessary weed control should be an important consideration. Effective weed control ranks second to adequate moisture.

The fast-growing small grain crop usually keeps weeds in check until the crop is harvested. However, once crop harvest is complete, weeds begin to grow rapidly and can cause problems if you plan to plant a second crop such as soybeans.

Weeds in the second crop are especially damaging because they compete for moisture during the driest part of the summer. That's when soybeans need all the moisture they can get.

Lorox, at the rate of one and a half to two pounds per acre, is the backbone of weed control in most Southern Illinois double-cropping programs. A recommended surfactant is added to improve postemergence effectiveness.

The Lorox can control both broadleaf and grass weeds if they are not more than one to two inches high. And the Lorox that reaches the soil also may give some preemergence control of weeds that have not yet broken through the ground.

It's always best to control existing weeds, and to plant soybeans immediately after harvesting small grain crops, while the weeds are small and easiest to kill. But if weeds are more than one to two inches high, you may need to add one to two quarts of Paraquat per acre to "knock down" existing weeds. Be sure to use a recommended surfactant with the Paraquat.

If you anticipate a problem with annual grasses, consider adding about two quarts of Lasso per acre.

Double-cropped soybeans have given good results when planted up to July 10 in Madison County.

Livestock farmers who did not get all of their corn acreage planted should consider grain sorghum. Grain sorghum has about 90 per cent as much feed value as corn. Sorghum does pose a drying problem at harvest, so grain drying facilities would be needed if you plan to store it for livestock feed.

The ten highest producing herds in Madison County Dairy Herd Improvement in May are owned by Clarence Iberg, Mrs. Freda Linenbroker, Vernon Warnecke, Henry Zoelzer, Waldo Keilbach, Jim Beane, Raymond Berrels, Harold and Carl Baumann, O. John Plocher, and Vernon Becker.

The herd of Clarence Iberg was high for the month with 2.98 pounds of butterfat per cow per day. The Iberg herd of 19 cows averaged 53.7 pounds of milk per cow per day with an average butterfat test of 3.90.

Completing 305 days lactation with a record of 650 pounds or more of butterfat was an 8-year-old cow in the herd of Mrs. Freda Linenbroker with 716 pounds butterfat and 18.475 pounds milk, a 5-year-old cow in the herd of Vernon Hitz with 700 pounds butterfat and 18.710 pounds milk, a 4-year-old cow in the herd of Jim Beane with 699 pounds butterfat and 14.736 pounds milk, and a 4-year-old cow in the herd of Henry Zoelzer with 658 pounds butterfat and 16.968 pounds milk.

Annual review board meeting

The Department of Local Government Affairs will hold its annual Board of Review meeting July 9-10 at the Holiday Inn East in Springfield, according to Director Frank A. Kirk.

The meeting is designed to instruct members of the boards of review and appeals throughout the state by presenting a brief exposition of the role and functions of board members and a discussion of new legislation and legislative trends.

"These annual conferences increase the proficiency and professionalism of board members and move us closer to the department's goal of equity in property taxation," Kirk said.

Approximately 300 to 400 participants are expected to attend this year's two-day meeting.

Less duties for special deputies wise; some areas lacking sufficient police service may wish to consider creating new municipal departments

It appears highly appropriate for the Madison County Sheriff's Department to be moving away from reliance on special deputies for fundamental police and law enforcement assignments.

Without singling out any individual special deputies, it is apparent that as a group of hundreds of men they lack the opportunity to achieve the kind of efficiency and dependability that is possible for salaried, well-trained, highly-experienced, full-time deputies.

Where the problem has become acute is in the unincorporated areas that have encountered considerable growth.

As court says, governmental control of news would end press freedom

Editor and Publisher magazine. The U.S. Supreme Court decision in the case of the Miami Herald vs. Pat Tornillo is a major victory for freedom of the press and for the American people.

The court ruled unanimously that governmental compulsion to force publication is exactly the same as a regulation forbidding publication of material and is therefore unconstitutional; it is prior restraint.

"The Florida statute fails to clear the barriers of the First Amendment," the court said, "because of its intrusion into the function of the press. A newspaper is more than a passive receptacle or conduit for news, comment and advertising."

"The choice of material to go into a newspaper, and the decisions made as to limitations on the size of the paper, and content, and treatment of public issues, and public affairs, whether fair or unfair, constitute the exercise of editorial control."

$425,000 United goal challenging but well within community's ability

The Tri-Cities Area United Way minimum goal of $425,000 for the October 1974 campaign is a challenging task—but one that is well within reach with dedicated support from working men and women, organizations and employers of this community.

It allows for some of the inflation which has been making it increasingly difficult for United Way member agencies to continue their services on the scale desired and required by Quad-City families and workers.

Funds available to the agencies through United giving have been insufficient for a number of years. The trend toward more adequate giving, beginning a year ago, now indicates that the previous negative trend can be reversed.

The agencies would like to rely on the full United Way contributions as their principal source of revenue, rather than devising additional fund-raising activities in the springtime; the public also would appreciate resumption of such an autumn emphasis.

The key to achieving this is wholehearted, fair-share giving by all, patterned on the one hour's pay per month concept.

Energy needs require nuclear development

By CARL E. MATTHIAS
Service Area Manager
Illinois Power Company

Energy and all its ramifications will become a more prominent subject for many years to come. The past fall and winter brought this into sharp focus for the public in general.

Present accepted forms of energy are usually thought to be fossil fuels, coal and petroleum products, natural gas and atomic related fuel sources. Coal seems to be the most abundant source of energy in this country and most experts agree we have 700 years' supply at the present rate of consumption.

Major restrictions have been placed on use of this fuel because of its environmental impact. The particulate contamination—flyash—has basically been overcome by the installation of electrostatic precipitators.

Most of this coal has a high sulfur content, which with present Environmental Protection Agency restrictions prohibits its use. A number of devices have been installed on an experimental basis, but all of these in sizes suitable for electric power generation have failed.

In the case of Illinois Power Company, we have spent $4 million to $5 million in partnership with the federal EPA, which added an additional $32 million, on a "CAT-OX" unit. This device has been installed more than two years and has been in service slightly more than one month.

Natural gas has been unavailable for large consumers for quite some time. In the areas we serve, it has been necessary to develop a waiting list as well as a priority system, which has been in effect since 1970.

We have released gas periodically as it becomes available, our last release being March 28, 1974.

No additional gas has been available from the pipeline suppliers, but we have been able to serve through development of underground storage fields.

Considerable effort has been put forth for the development of additional gas fields. Many utilities, including Illinois Power, have assisted financially in this exploration, with the hope that we will obtain new quantities of natural gas to make it available to our customers.

The alarming fact on this commodity is that national consumption is approximately 10 per cent more than the development of new sources.

Oil, propane and gasoline are probably best known by the public in general. The gasoline and home heating oil situation that occurred last winter made everyone realize the world situation on petroleum products need not dwell on price trends of these commodities.

It seems that the public is convinced that we no longer have a problem, since the price has reached a level desired by the public. In my opinion, this is a false assumption.

Unless we can conserve this natural resource, the price will continue to rise and the shortage may have even greater impact on our everyday living.

This leaves atomic power, which in my opinion is the energy source for the next several decades. But again, many people, particularly environmentalists, feel this application is detrimental to the environment.

Next year, staff will be employed to develop the guidelines with the assistance of a 17-member committee, of which four are legislators and five are laymen. We appreciate having a senator like Sam Vadabene in the state General Assembly, one who puts the needs of people above party politics.

MARGARET DEES
President,
Illinois Library Association

On June 1, we had occasion to attend the graduation ceremonies at the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center in Venice.

Until six months ago, I had no idea that a facility such as this was available in the Tri-City area.

It was gratifying to see the number of students who were able to get their high school diplomas and the other students who were able to further their education.

Such a situation of this kind, I think, is a good thing. It is a good thing that we have a facility such as this available in the Tri-City area.

such things as the rapid development of coal gasification.

This application would utilize coal, including high sulfur, and by various methods burn the coal to form a gas which could then supplement natural gas requirements. This is not a proven approach but can deliver some added energy.

The most optimistic estimate of cost for this type is at least triple present natural gas prices. The other alarming aspect of this development is that only 20 per cent of the energy becomes available for the consumer; 80 per cent is lost in the conversion.

I am also told that environmentalists are now becoming alarmed that a plant of this type would have an undesirable impact on the local environment.

Plans are being developed to utilize the shale oil located in western states in rather large quantities. The costs of recovering this oil are considerably more than are present sources of petroleum.

I indicated earlier that considerable emphasis is being placed on exploration for additional quantities of natural gas as well as petroleum. These efforts are quite expensive compared to previous years, since we are now going to depths three and four times more than was necessary in previous years.

Dependence on foreign petroleum is, at best, uncertain. It is assuredly a quite expensive. An industrial nation such as ours cannot long depend on such uncertain sources for a major portion of its energy.

If we cannot depend on the supply, the present and future costs would probably lead to such an imbalance of dollar payments that it has great chance of leading to bankruptcy.

Atomic energy is probably the brightest hope for serving the needs of the future. Solutions must be found for the objections, and delays minimized if at all possible.

We certainly believe in adequate safety precautions. A number of environmentalists were present at the meeting to present plans are meeting safety standards.

In discussing this on discussions with our engineering group responsible for the development of our atomic power plant, we have been led to the fact that all forms of energy will increase in cost.

We are all facing inflation and attempting to combat it as best we can, based on the impact that the particular increased costs will have on the economy. What of the rising costs for utilities and particularly Illinois Power Company? We have found it necessary during the past several years to ask for rate increases. In 1968, the company was granted an increase of 15 per cent.

In subsequent years, we reduced our electric rates four different times, which meant a loss of $20 million annually.

In 1971, we filed for a 15 per cent increase, and after 18 months of deliberation, the Commerce Commission denied any increase.

In 1972, we again filed for a 15 per cent increase and were granted a 5 per cent increase on electricity only. In 1973, we filed for a 0.5 per cent increase on both gas and electricity.

On June 18, 1974, the Commerce Commission granted us a three per cent interim increase. Since 1968, therefore, we have increased our rates approximately eight per cent. A three per cent interim increase over this period of time is a far cry from the true inflationary costs of doing business.

All consumers of utility services are faced with utility rates and I am sure increases in any other costs with which they are confronted.

Most businesses are allowed to raise or lower their prices to meet their needs. Generally consumers are not allowed to do this.

Even with that competition, I need not tell you the difference in prices for groceries, automobiles, newspapers, medical attention, labor—and any other commodity required to conduct a business or operate a home for that matter.

A utility has a different problem. When we can justify an increase in rates to receive a reasonable return on our investments, we must file with the Illinois Commerce Commission and prove our needs.

This is understandable, since we are a monopoly. One major difference is that, historically, no action is taken by the Commerce Commission for 11 months.

There is a recent exception; as indicated, the Illinois Commerce Commission granted an interim rate increase which only took approximately five months.

Other businesses have an opportunity to adjust their business—particularly as it applies to expansion—and need not necessarily secure loans when the money market is unfavorable. Their expenses can be deferred.

A utility does not have that luxury. There is no capital-oriented business, to my knowledge, that can do this. We have more than a $300,000 investment for each employee, and this continues to climb annually.

In order to build a power plant and meet the projected needs of our customers, we must make commitments as much as 10 years in advance of actual production. Failure to do so would assuredly lead to inadequate power sources in the future.

To meet these commitments, it is necessary for a utility to make financial arrangements in the hundreds of millions of dollars, almost annually.

If this done by either issuing stocks, selling bonds or generating internal cash which can then be used to build facilities to meet the needs of our customers.

At the present time, prime rate for which we qualify is approximately 12 per cent. Bonds are yielding in the general area of 9 per cent.

Utility stocks, generally speaking, are depressed and if we cannot earn our present rate of dividends and find it necessary to cut, it would further deflate our stock.

In order for us to compete for money, we must demonstrate to our customers that our earnings and our future earnings will be retained or improved. The options available to utilities to accomplish this are limited.

We must continue with commitments to meet requirements of the public in the form of power plants, transmission lines, etc.—all of them very expensive.

Some things we can do to cut costs are to defer on projects, or reduce service, both of which tend to temporarily reduce manpower.

There would be no immediate impact on customers, but continued deferral of projects could lead to less service quality.

Lack of necessary capital will lead to a shortage of electricity. Communities depend on their utility companies to have an ample supply for expanding industry and new industry, as well as increased requirements for their homes. Inability to supply these services would seriously impair the growth of that community.

It is my suggestion that the public investigate utility charges carefully, and make sure that no unfair charges are allowed, but at the same time make sure that the utility is allowed to earn sufficiently, in order to continue making the necessary improvements to ensure an adequate supply in the future.

The recent publicized Consolidated Edison problem can cause overreaction.

But it puts into focus some of the things that can happen in inadequate service, high charges and the necessity for the state to take over by purchasing the company.

There is some talk of a government takeover of that company. Perhaps there is another solution—Socialized Utilities, like the Post Offices, with costs 2½ times their 1963 rate.

To the public, I would say—just make sure of your decision. If either of us is wrong, we can't take corrective measures quickly.

Governor's mansion—legislators have little chance of reaching it

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record

What are the chances Bob Blair will become governor? Or George Lindberg? Or, for that matter, Alan Dixon?

Historically speaking, their chances are very slim. Not since 1924 have the voters of Illinois elected a governor who previously served in the General Assembly. That year, Len Small, a Republican from Kankakee, was elected the state's chief executive. He served as state treasurer prior to being governor.

The present treasurer, Dixon, figures as a possible Democratic nominee for governor in future years. He served 20 years in the legislature. Lindberg was in the House before being comptroller, and Blair is presently speaker of the House.

Why don't former legislators make good gubernatorial candidates for that matter? Their image is bad, for one thing. Outside of the Capital City, not too many people follow the legislature except on a few key issues. And when they do, they are usually not favorably impressed.

Another name-recognition is usually poor except among those who follow the political circuit. And they have one better quality, something that can always pick apart their voting record as a lawmaker.

Some politicians think the trend of electing non-legislators is a good thing. At an end soon, though, at least in part because of the national Congress asserting itself with the executive branch.

Other things are in their favor, too. State legislators are now better paid, which attracts better persons, and they are receiving more recognition. They have succeeded, also, in relieving the burden of reapportionment, a problem plaguing them for many years until the one-man, one-vote principle forced them to give equal representation to the populous suburbs.

The only modern-day governor who served in the legislative branch was Bill Stratton who served in Congress before being elected treasurer and then governor.

White House—Percy's foes facing obstacles

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record

Sen. Charles H. Percy, taking stock of last six months, may continue bidding for the Republican Presidential nomination in 1976.

A Illinoisan established "fail safe" points six months apart when his "exploratory committee" set out to assess the chances of winning the White House.

Percy believes he safely negotiated June, the first half for a review of the political horizon. His next fail safe point is December.

"He's decided to go on," says a Percy aide. "He's not a quitter."

What has Percy seen to encourage him or, if anything, convince him his odds are improving?

Survey the landscape yourself, suggests the confidant. All right, for starters there are Percy's three most visible prospective opponents, Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, former Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, and former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally.

Then there's Vice President Gerald R. Ford. He disclaims White House ambitions, but there's no one here glib enough to believe such protestations.

Reagan, Rockefeller and Connally may be "wounded" but they are still alive.

First, take Reagan. In the June 4 California primary, Democrat Jerry Brown, and Republican State Controller Houston I. Flounoy won the gubernatorial nominations.

Flounoy buried Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke, who had been indicted in April on charges he had committed grand jury.

Reagan, who can be interpreted as a good omen for Reagan and his California Republicans, was elected in June. It was reported that Texas lawyer Jake Jacobson, formerly an attorney for Associated Milk Producers, Inc., had made a

Sam Shapiro, a former representative, served seven months as governor in completing Otto Kerner's unexpired term, but when he sought the office himself, he was defeated. It may have been more coincidence than design that Shapiro, who served as lieutenant governor and then governor, Democrats controlled the House in 1958 and the battle for speaker was between the late Paul Powell, a downstate, and Joseph DeLaCorte, a Daley regular.

After a bitter struggle, Powell won—but the only downstate Democrat to vote for DeLaCorte was Shapiro. The next year Shapiro was slated for lieutenant governor.

Everyone thought a former legislator and Sam Shapiro had a good shot at the governor's office two years ago until a political unknown, Dan Rostenkowski, upset him in the primary election.

Walker isn't the only chief executive to move to Springfield with little statewide political experience. His predecessors were both born in Chicago, too. Ogilvie, Shapiro and Council Board president and Kerner was a judge.

The prospects for governor in 1976 are already beginning to squirm a little, primarily because Mayor Daley's illness has focused attention on whether he will seek election next year.

Two statewide officials have been mentioned as possible candidates for mayor should Daley not seek reelection. They are Lt. Gov. Neil Hartigan and Secy. of State Michael Hewitt.

Should Daley run, or they not be chosen as his replacement, then one of them might decide to challenge Walker in the 1976 gubernatorial primary.

On the Republican ticket, the future gubernatorial candidate may first play a key role in the Chicago mayor's race. Atty. Gen. Wm. Scott is the front runner for the governor's nomination, but what about U.S. Atty. Jim Thompson?

plea bargain with Special Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski on a reduced bribery charge to testify on his alleged $10,000 payoff to John B. Connally.

Although Connally has denied any attempt to influence Nixon Administration policy on milk price supports, his reputation clearly is in jeopardy.

As for Rockefeller, he can't escape the implication that his chairmanship of two national study commissions is politically inspired.

Rockefeller resigned as governor Dec. 18 to head both the Commission on Critical Choices for America and the National Commission on Water Quality.

Rockefeller found it necessary to deny that he was leaving the Statehouse to begin his 1976 campaign for the Presidential nomination.

"Under no circumstances," he said, "would I consider such a move before the latter part of 1976 or while I'm chairman of these commissions."

Percy's 25 years in business taught him that it is illogical to go a year without an appraisal. His six-month "fail safe" points are a carryover.

The next checkpoint in December may well be a watershed in his exploratory effort.

The November elections, with all their lessons for all politicians, will be over and the post-mortem can begin.

The Watergate affair may be wrapped up or at least near a resolution.

Percy will have had a full effort to assess his fund-raising effectiveness.

He will have put in an intensive year of traveling around the country selling the image of Chuck Percy as "his own man."

This all fits with Percy's conviction that the earliest he could announce his candidacy would be early in 1977.

Right now, after the June fail safe point, it appears in the Illinoisan's camp "to simmer down to Percy and Ford."

Both at their plant and at customers' plants.

They made a contribution to our area, but grew weaker with obsolete equipment, soaring cost of materials and labor, plus the non-productive burden of pollution controls and new safety rules.

National saved the jobs. National employed the productive equipment that was profitable to operate, sold the products that were profitable to produce, and made the investment in our mutual future.

How long could the Post-Dispatch have made it with obsolete presses, poor quality newsprint, low prices and high costs?

The question is: Would the Post-Dispatch have seen Granite City Steel go the route of St. Louis Car Co., General Steel Castings, Maloney Electric and Magic-Chef?

JOSEPH H. MITCHELL
Kirkwood, Mo.

To the Editor:

On June 1, we had occasion to attend the graduation ceremonies at the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center in Venice.

Such a situation of this kind, I think, is a good thing. It is a good thing that we have a facility such as this available in the Tri-City area.

It was gratifying to see the number of students who were able to get their high school diplomas and the other students who were able to further their education.

Mr. Duane Rankin, director, for his diligent efforts in keeping the school open, and Mrs. Lucy Hummick, R.N., who was very instrumental in preparing Janis for the future, for a job well done.

We thank all at Lincoln Tech. MRS. GEORGE P. LOUHE

One-term pattern developing for governors of this state?

By KEN WATSON
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

Is Walker another Ogilvie—a one-term governor?

That's the question being increasingly asked beneath the Statehouse Dome following Gov. Dan Walker's boing by Democratic delegates at the mid-summer state party convention here.

It has been believed for some time that Walker's personal popularity has been declining steadily throughout Illinois and especially in those Downstate areas of Central and Southern Illinois where he had been regarded as particularly strong.

But up until now he has been rated as a good bet to win re-election in 1978. However, predictions are suddenly becoming abundant at the Capitol that Walker, like Ogilvie before him, will serve only one term.

In some areas of state government, it is taken almost for granted that Republican Atty. Gen. William J. Scott will be sworn in as the next governor of Illinois in January 1977.

What is most alarming to the Walker forces is the sudden wave of comparisons between him and Ogilvie, the only governor to fail to win a second term in more than 30 years.

Like Ogilvie, the most bitter criticism of Walker comes from his own party.

It was the Democratic regulars who booed the loudest at the convention. These are the same people who applauded with enthusiasm for popular Governor Michael J. Hawlett and who still beam with favor on Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley.

Nor is the anti-Walker feeling limited to the party standard-bearers.

A sampling of opinion in the Central Illinois area finds many rank-and-file Democrats unhappy with the governor.

It's not just a matter of "letting the governor go," as some Democrats are disappointed in this. There is deeper criticism about Walker's relative lack of achievement after a year and a half in office.

His independent style no longer impresses some voters and he is becoming derided as a "talker" rather than a "doer."

Like Ogilvie also, Walker is being increasingly criticized for the performance of staff assistants and other aides.

Victor deGracia, deputy to the governor, is a Statehouse target. So is William Goldberg, next in line to deGracia.

"They're all as bad as Ogilvie's," is a favorite taunt comment on the Walker staff.

Just how low is Walker's current popularity?

Probably approaching that of Gov. Ogilvie's at his lowest point, and Ogilvie was saddled with the handicap of having brought about enactment of Illinois' first income tax.

Can Walker come back; can he regain his lost popularity?

This is debatable. He still has more than two years to go before again facing the voters, but the current trend is running against him.

The search for an alternate candidate for governor is already well under way in his own party. Lt. Gov. Neil Hartigan is a definite replacement possibility.

So is the popular Hawlett, who many Democrats feel would be an excellent compromise choice to heal party wounds and rebuild the unity needed to turn drive by Scott.

Walker's immediate strategy is to try to blame the Republican legislators for lack of accomplishment.

It would not surprise many at the Statehouse if he resorted to another "walk" around the state to once again carry his message "to the people."

Dan Walker is in deep political trouble and it is going to take a lot of walking and talking to get himself out of it. Even then, the job may be impossible.

The mood of Illinois voters may have changed so basically that no governor can expect to serve more than one term in the long years ahead.

Brush burning still banned

Granite City residents still may not burn brush and limbs, although a liberalized ruling by the Illinois Environmental Protection does permit burning of leaves, Casmer Skubish of the Granite City Air Pollution Control staff, explained last week.

Skubish said he has contacted EPA agents of the district and state offices to determine if the easing of open burning regulations by the state included the right to burn brush, but was told that the ban continues against brush burning.

"As near as we can determine, the only open burning now permitted by the state EPA is that of leaves. Brush, trash and debris still must be picked up and hauled away," Skubish said.

The new contract for garbage and trash collections awarded by the city last week includes provisions to cover the additional cost of brush and trash collections.

Illinois Terminal named defendant

Mildred Milic, administratrix of the estate of her husband the late Andrew Milic, has filed suit in Madison County Circuit Court against the Illinois Terminal Railroad Co.

In the complaint, she alleges her husband was employed as a laborer and labor foreman in the company's coal shipping facility near Alton and worked for a long period of time in air laden with coal or soybean dust.

She further alleges the unstable air contributed to his being disabled and to his death.

She seeks $100,000 for injuries her husband suffered and $100,000 for his death and the losses to his family.

*Added disclosure urged by Burditt

U.S. Senate nominee George Burditt last week challenged his opponent to disclose the finances of current and previous campaigns. Burditt commented:

"Two weeks ago, I made public every contribution, either in money or in goods or services, that I have received. I publicly reported contributions as little as $1 even though the current rules only require reporting of gifts of $100 or more."

"I think such disclosure is essential to help restore public trust, which the Harris poll last week showed was at a record low. I assume that Sen. Stevenson has nothing to do with either in his current campaign or in his 1970 campaign."

"If that assumption is correct, then there's no valid reason for him to fail to reveal his honorariums and contributions of money or services in full. I invite him to do so without delay."

Burditt said he was "deeply concerned" at the poll's findings. When respondents were asked if they agreed or disagreed with this statement—"most elective officials are in politics for money or services in full," 62 percent agreed. He continued:

"In view of convictions and Illinois alone, this evidence of distrust should not be surprising. It seems to me that everyone in public life has a responsibility to do what he can to restore the trust that has been so callously thrown away."

Price rules out trips paid for by foreign governments

The House Committee on Standards of Official Conduct has advised members and employees of the House of Representatives that acceptance of trips to foreign countries at the expense of foreign governments or their agents or instrumentalities is contrary to law unless specifically approved by Congress.

The ethics panel's position was stated in an advisory opinion which Chairman Melvin Price, D-Ill., said was in response to requests for guidance and advice on the propriety of accepting invitations to make such trips.

Because of the absence of any specific decisions as to the legality of such trips, the local congressman said, the committee issued its opinion for future guidance of members and employees.

The committee sought and obtained from the committee general and the State Department interpretations of the Constitution and prevailing law and regulations dealing with the subject.

The Constitution (Article I, Section 9, Clause 6) prohibits acceptance by any officer or employee of the government, unless expressly approved by Congress, of any present, emolument, office or title, of any kind whatever, from any king, prince or foreign state.

Congress by law has granted qualified blanket permission for acceptance of certain gifts and decorations from foreign governments, and authorized the State Department to issue administrative regulations.

The regulations permit acceptance of decorations and gifts of "minimal value" having a retail value of not in excess of $50 in the United States. Gifts with a value in excess of $50 may be accepted under certain conditions.

Acting Comptroller General Robert P. Keller advised the committee that present law should not be construed to include trips within the exceptions to which Congress already had consented.

Assistant Secretary of State Linwood Holton said the State Department considered the offer of an expense-paid trip to be the same as the offer of a gift.

Bookmobile visits at schools listed

The Granite City Public Library bookmobile will continue its schedule of stops at public schools and other locations this week.

"Monday, from 9 a.m. to noon, the bookmobile will be at Frohardt School and Tuesday, during the same hours, it will be at Washington School.

From 1 to 2 p.m. Tuesday, the unit will stop at The Anchorage. Wednesday the bookmobile will be at Namek School, Thursday at Marshall School and Friday at Maryville School, all from 9 a.m. to noon.

A stop also is planned Friday from noon to 3 p.m. at St. Elizabeth School. The bookmobile is open to the public.

Sammy's tavern named in suit

Thomas Barry Jateff, 24, of 2171 Northland Drive, has filed suit against the owners of Sammy's Tavern, 921 Niedringhaus Ave., in relation to Jateff being stabbed by another patron in the tavern Dec. 25, 1973.

One count of the suit seeks $20,000 from Annid Nighossian, doing business as Sammy's Tavern, and another count seeks $20,000 from Sammy and Annid Nighossian, owners of the tavern.

He alleges that the tavern served intoxicating liquors to a patron, causing him to become intoxicated. As a result, the complainant alleges, the patron stabbed Jateff, causing damage to Jateff's back, lungs, shoulder and intestines.

If you've been using your air conditioning since May, you should now be changing the disposable filter for the second time. Replacing air filters regularly during the air conditioning season is strongly recommended by experts. As filters become clogged with dirt and dust, they cut down air circulation. Your air conditioning system has to work harder and harder to meet your demands.
The result is air conditioning bills higher than necessary—and a needless waste of electric energy. With a clean filter you'll save money, prolong the life of your air conditioner—and conserve electricity. If you'd like detailed information on ways to save when buying or using an air conditioner, just ask at our office. Providing energy is our business. Using it wisely is everybody's business.
